Comments:

I am an enrolled member of the White Earth Reservation but have lived near the Iron Range most of my life. There have been many changes in the area throughout my 50 years. I was too young to notice the permanent scars in our landscape made by the iron mines. As my life has changed with the birth of our children and most recently my first grandchild I feel that I must accept the great responsibility of stewardship over our Mother Earth to insure a healthy environment for these and future generations.

I was proud to attend the Nov. 27th meeting in Taconite with so many educated and well informed neighbors. Many of these requested more clarification or revisiting the EIS. According to the facts & figures presented at this meeting I would request that we stop wasting our time and monies funding the
