Comments:

In today's world of the concern over global warming, I find it ludicrous that you would consider building an obsolete form of energy production. I cannot support a plan that will burn fossil fuels. Why aren't we moving toward renewable energy?

"Clean Coal" is an oxymoron

This plan is a step backward. I don't care how new the technology is, it still involves burning a non-renewable, polluting resource.

In conjunction with the proposed steel plant in Nashwauk, this plan lowers the desirability & environmental quality of this community.

I own property here, but I will not keep it if this goes through. The argument that this is good for the economy, is just a catch all phrase to justify any kind of developement, whether it is beneficial or not.
