

Maps B.2.1 through B.6.4 present possible construction styles for each proposed route. The structure placement and right-of-way proposed within these figures are best professional estimates based upon engineering requirements, existing features and information available on the Project Area. The exact transmission line and structure placements may vary based upon site surveys, detailed engineering and/or conditions encountered during construction.