

COMPARISON | Local Government Aid for Minnesota Communities

An Opportunity Agenda for a Better Minnesota

Minnesotans rely on their local governments to provide essential services like police and fire protection. But Minnesota cities have struggled to recover from a decade of state funding cuts, causing local governments to raise property taxes to pay for these public services. Since 2011, Governor Dayton has worked with the Legislature to invest $94 million in Local Government Aid (LGA). This year, the Governor has proposed a $20 million ongoing investment in LGA to support these important community services and relieve the burden on Minnesota property owners.

The Minnesota Senate has proposed a $17 million total cut in funding, including a $28 million cut to the City of Minneapolis. The cities that do see an increase will only see it for one year, while Minneapolis will see an ongoing cut. The Minnesota House has proposed no increase in LGA.

See how communities across Minnesota would be impacted below.
