Minnesota Rules: Amendments and Additions

NOTICE: How to Follow State Agency Rulemaking in the State Register

The State Register is the official source, and only complete listing, for all state agency rulemaking in its various stages. State agencies are required to publish notice of their rulemaking action in the State Register. Published every Monday, the State Register makes it easy to follow and participate in the important rulemaking process. Approximately 80 state agencies have the authority to issue rules. Each agency is assigned specific Minnesota Rule chapter numbers. Every odd-numbered year the Minnesota Rules are published. Supplements are published to update this set of rules. Generally speaking, proposed and adopted exempt rules do not appear in this set because of their short-term nature, but are published in the State Register.

An agency must first solicit Comments on Planned Rules or Comments on Planned Rule Amendments from the public on the subject matter of a possible rulemaking proposal under active consideration within the agency (Minnesota Statutes §§ 14.101). It does this by publishing a notice in the State Register at least 60 days before publication of a notice to adopt or a notice of hearing, or within 60 days of the effective date of any new statutory grant of required rulemaking.

When rules are first drafted, state agencies publish them as Proposed Rules, along with a notice of hearing, or a notice of intent to adopt rules without a hearing in the case of noncontroversial rules. This notice asks for comment on the rules as proposed. Proposed emergency rules, and withdrawn proposed rules, are also published in the State Register. After proposed rules have gone through the comment period, and have been rewritten into their final form, they again appear in the State Register as Adopted Rules. These final adopted rules are not printed in their entirety, but only the changes made since their publication as Proposed Rules. To see the full rule, as adopted and in effect, a person simply needs two issues of the State Register, the issue the rule appeared in as proposed, and later as adopted.

The State Register features partial and cumulative listings of rules in this section on the following schedule: issues #1-26 inclusive (issue #26 cumulative for issues #1-26); issues #27-52 inclusive (issue #52, cumulative for issues #27-52 or #53 in some years). A subject matter index is updated weekly and is available upon request from the editor. For copies or subscriptions to the State Register, contact the editor at 651-201-3204 or email at sean.plemmons@state.mn.us

Expedited Rules

The Minnesota Legislature allows for some agencies to use an expedited rulemaking process. Expedited rulemaking allows state agencies to adopt, amend or repeal rules faster than the standard process, generally without a public hearing. The agency must publish notice of the proposed rule in the State Register and must mail the notice by United States mail or electronic mail to persons who have registered with the agency to receive mailed notices (Minnesota Statutes §14.389). There must be a 30-day comment period after the notice is published in the State Register.

Before publication of the final rule in the State Register, the agency must submit the rule to an administrative law judge in the Court of Administrative Hearings. The administrative law judge shall within 14 days approve or disapprove the rule as to its legality and its form to the extent the form relates to legality. If the final rule is approved by the administrative law judge, it can then be published in the State Register. The rule is effective upon publication in the State Register (Minnesota Statutes §14.389).

Adoption of Rules Relating to Submerged Closed Loop Heat Exchangers, Minnesota Rules, Chapter 4725; Revisor’s ID Number 4953, CAH Docket Number 25-9000-41378

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

1. The Department of Health (MDH) has complied with all notice and procedural requirements in Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 14, Minnesota Rules, Chapter 1400, and other applicable law, including Minnesota Statutes, Section 103I.208, Subdivision 3.
2. MDH received no written comments and submissions on the rules. No persons requested a public hearing, which means that there were no persons that subsequently withdrew their requests. Therefore, there are not 50 or more requests for a public hearing. MDH received no requests for notice of submission to the Court of Administrative Hearings.
3. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.0100, Subpart 41, Item G, is amended to remove the restriction on where a screen is located during well or boring construction. The Legislature directed MDH to consider rules for screen configurations during this expedited process. Minn. Stat. § 103I.209, Subd. 2(b). Since adopting the original Submerged Closed Loop Heat Exchanger (SCLHE) rules, MDH learned, including through Advisory Committee discussions, that the requirement for screens to be placed only at the bottom of a casing is duplicative with rule requirements prohibiting the interconnection of aquifers and, for wells used in a SCLHE system, gives rise to the need for burdensome variance applications, which require system owners and MDH to incur additional costs and spent time. Removing this requirement is reasonable and most efficiently and consistently allows for multiple screen constructions for water-supply wells that can be safely and effectively used in SCLHE systems.
4. The amendment to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.0100, Subpart 47, Item F, is needed to clarify that a SCLHE system includes the lateral piping that connects SCLHE to the buildings they serve. The SCLHE system permit application requires information on all components of a system. SCLHE lateral piping is part of the components of the system. The inclusion of this requirement in the rule clarifies the requirement.

Expedited Rules

5. The addition of Minnesota Rules, part 4725.0110, Subpart 48, Item C, creates clarity on who is a third-party testing agency. This definition establishes a mechanism for reviewing and accepting alternative materials, joints, fittings, and connections for SCLHE systems, as provided under proposed Part 4725.7075, Subpart 3, discussed below. This is consistent with Minnesota Statutes, Section 103I.208, Subdivision 3, which mandates MDH “adopt rules to implement requirements for the permitting and installation of submerged closed loop heat exchangers[.]”
6. The amendment to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.1834, Subpart 1, Item B, clarifies when Minnesota unique well numbers need to be provided for wells used in a SCLHE system. This revision adds clarity for permit applicants on the existing SCLHE system permitting process. A SCLHE system permit may be issued before well construction or selection of a contractor, and the system owner must provide Minnesota unique well numbers to MDH so they can be added to the permit.
7. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.1834, Subpart 2, Item B, is amended as follows:
 - a. (6)(b)(ii): The revision incorporates the proposed revision to Part 4725.7075, Subpart 3, that provides an opportunity for alternative materials, joints, fittings, and connections to be used in SCLHE systems. The revision is needed to effectuate the incorporated revisions to that subpart.
 - b. The addition of “and” in Subitems 9 and 10 corrects a typographical error in the current rule.
8. The revision to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.1834, Subpart 5, Item B, Subitem 1, incorporates the same proposed revision to Part 4725.7075, Subpart 3, as described above regarding Subpart 2, Item B (6)(b)(ii), and for the same reason as provided above.
9. The amendment to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.1834, Subpart 6, Item A, Subitem 11, allows MDH to verify that wells used in a SCLHE system are constructed in compliance with Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 103I, and Minnesota Rules, Chapter 4725, with respect to distances from regulated structures, utilities, water bodies, other wells, and contaminated sources. The rule already requires submission of a diagram with this same information when SCLHE systems are proposed. This proposed revision allows MDH to verify that these approved plans were followed in compliance with legal requirements.
10. The amendment to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.1834, Subpart 7, Item H, requires the system owner to provide information that allows MDH to determine a pattern in product or component failure when considering future continued approval of an alternative material, joint, fitting, or connection through permit issuance or modification. Identifying a pattern of failure, resulting in pressure loss or leakage, ensures the protection of public health by not approving use of these failed products or components in future systems.
11. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.2750, is amended as follows:
 - a. The language of the Part is proposed to be broken out into items for ease of reading, with additional language proposed to be added via Item E. The language adds clarity that multiple screens in a well used in a SCLHE system may be separated by a screen sump.
 - b. The proposed addition of Item E exempts wells used in SCLHE systems from the requirement prohibiting well construction with multiple screens and from the limit on screen sump length. MDH considered the need to use multiple screens separated by a screen sump in SCLHE systems to maximize geothermal efficiency. A screen sump that is more than 10 feet in length is often required to construct an efficient SCLHE system because of the geology encountered at the site. Wells used in a SCLHE system must go through a permit application review process. This ensures the protection of public health through the review of the geology and construction of wells used in a system.
 - c. The proposed addition of Item F requires third-party geologic logging for wells constructed in unconsolidated materials, which are more variable in lithology than bedrock materials, provides an independent analysis of the geologic material of the bore hole to ensure the protection of public health by not interconnecting aquifers.

Expedited Rules

12. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.3050, is amended to create an exemption for grouting materials required for the space surrounding a screen sump between multiple screens in wells used in SCLHE systems. The exemption ensures accuracy in placement of higher-solid grouting material around the screen sump, separating the screens. By the nature of how wells are constructed for use in SCLHE systems, effective use of the system requires accurate placement of grout. Requiring lower-solid grout material has potential to migrate beyond the indented depth of placement, effectively decreasing the efficiency of the screens to move water in or out of the well. This change is necessary to ensure the placement of grout separating the screens does not plug up screens and potentially decrease efficiency of a system.
13. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.7075, Subpart 3, is amended to provide an alternative to the existing International Mechanical Code (IMC) standards and requirements for SCLHE systems. The standards and requirements included in the IMC address establish technology and safe mechanical practices. The amended language addresses the innovative nature of emerging geothermal technologies, such as SCLHE systems, in a manner the balances innovation with the need to protect public health. SCLHE systems require innovation and proprietary materials, joints, fittings, or connections to create safe, efficient, and affordable systems. Because of this reality, MDH has found that SCHLE installations have consistently required variances from the existing requirements of Subpart 3. The rule needs to allow alternatives to this rule without resorting to the variance process, which is not efficient when required for every SCHLE installation.

Requiring equivalency to IMC standards and requirements ensures protection of public health by minimizing the potential for leaks and failure. A third-party testing agency allows for unbiased testing of alternative materials, joints, fittings, or connections for use in SCLHE systems. A professional engineer's assessment of the alternative material, joint, fitting, or connection, including the third-party testing results, ensures alternatives are adequately and ethically assessed and recommended by an individual licensed by the state of Minnesota.

14. The amendment to Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.7075, Subpart 4, Item F, Subitem 2, allows a well contractor to witness a pressure test. The change is needed to create efficiency during pressure testing if a third-party well contractor is available to witness the test.
15. Minnesota Rules, Part 4725.7075, Subpart 4, Item I, Subitem 5, clarifies the measuring point for the hydrostatic pressure. The clarification is needed to ensure pressure measurements are reported consistently.
16. The rules are needed and reasonable.

I. Background

The Building Official Training Municipal Grant program (referred to as the BOT Grant or BOT) from the Construction Codes and Licensing Division (CCLD) of the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry (DLI) was created to offer competitive grants to qualified municipalities that want to establish a training program, in their municipality's building code department, to train an individual toward becoming a Minnesota certified building official. This will be achieved through a competitive grant process and the implementation and coordination of partnerships between the State of Minnesota and those qualified municipalities.

Funding for the BOT Grant program is provided by the Construction Codes and Licensing Division (CCLD) permit surcharge surplus as allowed in MN. Statute 326B.148 subdivision 1.

II. Objective of the RFP

The BOT Grant Program Request for Proposal (RFP) details information about this grant offering including application/proposal process and requirements, timeline, required documents, purpose, funding, reporting, eligibility, and legal aspects. The RFP can be obtained at the BOT grant website: www.dli.mn.gov/bot.

III. Eligibility

Proposals will be accepted from qualified municipalities and funding will be allocated through a competitive grant process. Consult the RFP for more information. The deadline to submit a grant proposal to the Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry is 4 p.m. October 16, 2026. DLI staff will review all applications for eligibility. The grant review committee will evaluate and score eligible grant applications and proposals.
