Seventeen airlines operating at the Minneapolis-St. Paul International airport offer direct service to 167 routes, including 137 domestic and 30 international destinations.

International destinations include major cities such as Amsterdam, Paris, Frankfurt, London, and Tokyo. Beginning 2019, new international destinations include Seoul, Dublin and Mexico City.

In the winter months, destinations to Mexico and the Caribbean include Puerto Vallarta, Cancun, Punta Cana and San Jose del Cabo.

For the third consecutive year (2018), the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport was ranked the best airport of its size in North America. The Airports Council International named MSP the Best Airport in North America among air terminals that serve 25 million to 40 million passengers annually.

In 2018, more than 38 million passengers traveled through the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport. Additionally, 239,546 metric tons of cargo were moved through the airport the same year.

Total non-stop destinations: 167
International destinations: 30
Domestic destinations: 137

Destinations are for 2020.

Sources: Metropolitan Airports Commission, Airports Council International