

- Be able to direct their own care or have a representative who can direct care on the participant's behalf
- Be on one of Minnesota's health care programs
- Have an assessment that determines eligibility.

CFSS will cover the same main services as PCA:

- Activities of daily living (ADLs) (e.g., eating, bathing, grooming and transferring)
- Health-related tasks
- Instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs) (e.g., shopping, cooking, laundry and assistance with medications)
- Observation and redirection of behavior.

Why is CFSS not running concurrently with PCA?

CFSS differs from state plan PCA services through its emphasis on self-direction. Participants have control of how, when, where and by whom the services and supports are provided. Additionally, CFSS transforms the current PCA services into a parallel CFC §1915(i) program that is designed to appear seamless to participants.

Why is Minnesota proposing plans for a §1915(k) Community First Choice (CFC) benefit and a §1915(i) Home and Community-Based (HCBS) state plan benefit?

DHS plans to move forward with the CFC benefit under the §1915(k) state plan option and use the §1915(i) HCBS state plan benefit to create a program that mirrors the structure and benefits of CFC that will cover participants who do not meet an institutional level of care. This will ensure all participants currently using PCA services in Minnesota will be eligible for the new CFSS program.

The "umbrella" program for both the §1915(k) and the §1915(i) benefits is Minnesota's CFSS program. The §1915(i) benefit is consistent with the service definitions, processes for accessing services, rates and budget assignment procedures, etc., as the CFC benefit under §1915(k). The only difference between the two benefits is the requirement for participants to need an institutional level of care under §1915(k).

How will CFSS impact services for people on §1915(c) HCBS waivers?

A participant may be assessed to need services through the CFSS program, as well as additional services available under Minnesota's five §1915(c) HCBS waivers to meet additional needs. For example, a participant may need positive behavior supports, employment supports or respite. These services are not available through the CFSS program and are exclusive to Minnesota's §1915(c) HCBS waivers.

What additional options and supports will people have through CFSS that they do not currently have through PCA?

CFSS includes the following options and supports in addition to what is currently covered through PCA:

- Support with the development, acquisition and maintenance of skills

- Purchase of goods and services to replace human assistance and increase independence
- Payment of spouses or parents of a minor to serve as the participant's support worker
- Participant-specific worker training and development
- Consultation services to provide voluntary training/education and support in writing the participant's service delivery plan
- Purchase of back-up systems for continuity of care.

What are the service delivery models through CFSS?

CFSS has two service delivery models: the provider agency model and the budget model. In both models, the participant:

- Directs their own care
- Selects their worker, including their spouse or parent of a minor
- Writes their plan with assistance from the consultation services provider, as desired
- Purchases goods and back-up systems.

In the provider agency model, the participant selects an agency that serves as the support worker's employer. This means the agency recruits, hires, trains, supervises and pays the CFSS worker. The participant's lead agency (county, tribal nation or managed care organization) authorizes worker training and development for the agency employer to:

- Train the support worker on the participant's individual needs
- Ensure the support worker is competent to support the participant
- Supervise the support worker
- Evaluate the support worker.

More information about worker training and development can be found on pages 32-33 under the provider agency model.

In the budget model, the participant is the employer of their own support workers. The participant recruits, hires, trains and supervises their CFSS worker. The person selects a financial management services (FMS) provider to help the person comply with applicable laws. The participant's lead agency authorizes worker training and development for the participant or their representative to:

- Train the worker on the participant's individual needs
- Ensure the worker is competent to support the participant
- Supervise the worker
- Evaluate the worker.

More information about worker training and development can be found on pages 32-33 under the budget model.

How will participants access services through CFSS?

The process to access CFSS services includes the following steps:

Step 1: Assessment of functional needs and program/service eligibility

An assessor uses an assessment tool to determine program and service eligibility, including an institutional level of care determination.

For purposes of this state plan amendment, the term “assessment” is defined as a standardized, comprehensive, person-centered tool used to determine program eligibility and identify long-term services and support needs. The term “support plan” is defined as a written summary of the needs the assessor identified through the assessment process, aligned with the services and supports the participant selected.

DHS revised its comprehensive assessment tool to capture differences in eligibility criteria between PCA and CFSS. At rollout, all lead agencies can begin a transition for all participants to the revised assessment under CFSS. Currently, all initial assessments completed by counties and tribal nations use the comprehensive assessment tool. A small number of counties use a more specific PCA assessment tool after the initial assessment. DHS also revised the specific PCA assessment tool to capture differences in eligibility criteria between PCA and CFSS. This limited number of counties will transition to the revised comprehensive assessment tool within the next several years. Participants receiving the more specific assessment may request an assessment using the comprehensive assessment tool instead, at any time. Both tools collect the same information related to PCA and CFSS eligibility.

Step 2: Development of CFSS service delivery (person-centered) plan

The CFSS service delivery plan is based on the comprehensive assessment, which includes the health, psychological, functional, environmental and social needs of the participant necessary to develop a plan that meets the participant's needs and preferences.

After the assessment, the participant chooses a consultation service provider who provides them with information about CFSS service models, rights and responsibilities (including appeal rights), choice in providers and CFSS policies. The consultation service provider also provides the participant with the CFSS service delivery plan template.

The lead agency assessor provides the assessment results to the consultation service provider, FMS provider and/or CFSS agency, as applicable.

The participant or their representative is responsible to write the CFSS service delivery plan. Consultation services are available to the participant and/or their representative to provide assistance and support in writing the CFSS service delivery plan, to the extent desired by the participant. The participant may choose others to participate in the CFSS service delivery plan development process who are important in supporting them to be active in their community and/or meeting their assessed needs. This could include their representative, family members, friends, natural supports or others.

Step 3: Plan approval and service authorization

The consultation services provider is responsible to review and approve the CFSS service delivery plan written by the participant or their representative. If the person uses CFSS services on a waiver or Alternative Care (AC) program, the lead agency case manager also must approve the plan. If the participant is age 65 or older and receives CFSS services through a managed care organization (MCO), the MCO care coordinator must also approve the plan. Plan approval includes ensuring the plan meets requirements and does not include services or goods that are not covered.

The consultation services provider sends copies of the approved plan to the participant and the CFSS agency and/or FMS provider, depending on the service model the participant has chosen.

For people who are using the provider agency model, the CFSS provider agency is responsible to work with the participant to fill in any additional service delivery details not included in the plan approved by the consultation services provider.

Will participants receiving PCA experience a loss or interruption of services?

Participants who currently receive PCA services will not experience any loss or interruption of services.

CFSS will be available both to people who meet an institutional level of care (via the §1915(k) benefit) and people who do not (via the §1915(i) benefit). These two components of CFSS are designed to work together seamlessly to provide appropriate services to people who have a functional need.

Consultation services will be authorized and available while the participant is receiving PCA services. PCA services will continue to be authorized until the participant has been served by the consultation services provider, decisions for CFSS services have been made and CFSS services have been authorized.

What is the transition plan for CFSS?

Assessors will authorize CFSS services at the participant's annual assessment. Following federal approval of this amendment and DHS' completion of system updates (whichever is later), assessors must transition participants from PCA to CFSS.

After CFSS implementation, new participants who are determined eligible for CFSS will be authorized for services based on the date of their assessment.

During the transition, DHS will ensure that participants, lead agencies, service providers and other stakeholders are informed of these changes to PCA. Upon federal approval of this amendment, DHS will send a notice to all participants receiving PCA services that explains the transition to CFSS and how it will affect them. DHS will use other communication methods as appropriate, which may include website updates and email distribution list announcements. DHS will release guidance, conduct training webinars and host regional meetings to help train service professionals on CFSS and prepare them for the transition.

Community First Choice Development and Implementation Council

Name of State Development and Implementation Council:

Community First Services and Supports Development and Implementation Council

Date of first Council meeting:

Nov. 19, 2012

The CFSS Development and Implementation Council was established in Minnesota Statutes for CFSS. This council was formed in September 2012 to consult and collaborate with DHS in the redesign of PCA services. As required by statute and federal requirements for Community First Choice, the council is made up of a majority of people receiving services or family members of people receiving services.

The 24-member council meets quarterly to develop CFSS policy and implementation recommendations, including, but not limited to:

- Assessment and person-centered planning
- Eligibility and level of care
- Service delivery models
- CFSS service components and provider qualifications
- Budget methodology
- Quality assurances
- Home and community-based services (HCBS) settings
- Implementation strategies (e.g., policy guidance, training)
- Proposed legislative language.

Appointments include:

- Thirteen people receiving services or family members of people receiving services
- Two managed care representatives
- Two county assessors or case managers
- One Individual Education Program (IEP) or school representative
- Two advocate representatives
- Two PCA agency representatives
- Two fiscal support entity or FMS representatives.

Additional membership details can be found on the Office of the Minnesota Secretary of State Board and Commission page.

Box Checked: The state has consulted with its Development and Implementation Council before submitting its CFC State Plan amendment.

Box Checked: The state has consulted with its Development and Implementation Council on its assessment of compliance with home and community-based settings requirements, including on the settings the state believes overcome the presumption of having institutional qualities.

Box Checked: The state has sought public input on home and community-based settings compliance beyond the Development and Implementation Council. If yes, please describe.

DHS sought public input on HCBS settings compliance through the Statewide Transition Plan for HCBS waivers \(PDF\).

A significant component of Minnesota's public engagement efforts included collaboration with the HCBS rule advisory group, through:

- Providing input on the development of DHS' HCBS settings rule statewide transition plan
- Developing policy expectations and practice considerations
- Testing the provider-attestation process and providing technical assistance throughout the attestation process
- Providing input on the desk audit and site visit processes and protocols
- Providing technical assistance to providers about the desk audit follow-up and site visits.

DHS also seeks public input prior to submitting any settings to CMS for heightened scrutiny review.

Community First Choice Eligibility

Box Checked: Individuals are eligible for medical assistance under an eligibility group identified in the state

Box unchecked: Categorically Needy Individuals

Box Checked: Medically Needy Individuals

Box Checked: Medically Needy individuals receive the same services that are provided to Categorically Needy individuals

Box checked: Different services than those provided to Categorically Needy individuals are provided to Medically Needy individuals. (If this box is checked, a separate template must be submitted to describe the CFC benefits provided to Medically Needy individuals)

The state assures the following:

Box Checked: Individuals are in eligibility groups in which they are entitled to nursing facility services, or

Box Unchecked: If individuals are in an eligibility group under the state plan that does not include nursing facility services, and to which the state has elected to make CFC services available (if not otherwise required), such individuals have an income that is at or below 150 percent of the Federal poverty level (FPL)

Level of Care

Box Checked: The state assures that absent the provision of home and community based attendant services and supports provided under CFC, individuals would require the level of care furnished in a long term care hospital, a nursing facility, an intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities, an institution providing inpatient psychiatric services for individuals under age 21, or an institution for mental diseases for individuals age 65 or over.

Recertification

Box Unchecked: The state has chosen to permanently waive the annual recertification of level of care requirement for individuals in accordance with 441.510(c)(1) & (2).

Please indicate the levels of care that are being waived:

- Box Unchecked: Long-term care hospital
- Box Unchecked: Nursing facility
- Box Unchecked: Intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities
- Box Unchecked: Institution providing psychiatric services for individuals under age 21
- Box Unchecked: Institution for mental diseases for individuals age 65 or over

Describe the state process for determining an individual's level of care:

Intermediate care facility for persons with developmental disabilities (ICF/DD) level of care

For ICF/DD level of care, the participant must meet all of the following criteria:

- Be unable to apply skills learned in one environment to another (i.e., cannot generalize skills to "real world" situations)
- Have a diagnostic determination of intellectual or developmental disability or a related condition
- Require a continuous program of aggressive, systemic instruction and supervision (i.e., active treatment) to participate in life activities
- Require a 24-hour plan of care based on need for active treatment to gain and/or maintain the highest level of self-sufficiency and life participation.

A certified assessor or public health nurse completes an in-person initial assessment. Redetermination of level of care must be performed at least annually. The results of the level of care assessment are summarized on the Long-Term Care Screening Document \(PDF\), Developmental Disabilities Screening Document \(PDF\) or a type B service agreement.

Hospital level of care

For hospital level of care, the participant must meet all of the following criteria:

- Have both predictable health needs and the potential for status changes that could lead to rapid deterioration or life-threatening episodes because of the participant's health condition
- Require professional nursing assessments and intervention multiple times during a 24-hour period to maintain and prevent deterioration of health status
- Require a 24-hour plan of care, including a back-up plan, to reasonably ensure health and safety in the community
- Require frequent or continuous care in a hospital.

A certified assessor or public health nurse completes an in-person initial assessment. Redetermination of level of care must be performed at least annually. The results of the level of care assessment are summarized on the Long-Term Care Screening Document \(PDF\), Developmental Disabilities Screening Document \(PDF\) or a type B service agreement.

CFC Service Models

Indicate which service models are used in the state's CFC program to provide consumer-directed home and community-based attendant services and supports (Select all that apply):

Box checked: Agency-Provider Model

Box unchecked: Self-Directed Model with Service Budget

Box checked: Other Service Model. Describe:

Minnesota will use a variation of the self-directed model with service budget as described in the code of federal regulations under 42 CFR §441.545(c), heretofore referred to as the "budget model."

Under the budget model, participants have budget and employer authority and accept more responsibility and control over the services and supports described and budgeted within their person-centered service delivery plan.

Participants who are unable to fulfill any of their obligations under the CFSS budget model may authorize a legal representative or participant's representative to do so on their behalf.

Please complete the following section if the state is using the Self-Directed Model with Service Budget or the Other Service Model if it includes a Service Budget.

Financial Management Services (FMS)

The state must make available financial management services to all individuals with a service budget.

The state will claim costs associated with financial management services as:

Box checked: A Medicaid Service

Box unchecked: An Administrative Activity

Box checked: The state assures that financial management service activities will be provided in accordance with the code of federal regulations under 42 CFR 441.545(B)(1).

If applicable, please describe the types of activities that the financial management service entity will be providing, in addition to the regulatory requirements at 42 CFR 441.545(B)(1).

Participants using the budget model must select an FMS provider. The role of the FMS provider is to support the participant to fulfill their responsibilities in being the employer of their workers. The FMS provider is responsible to:

- Collect and process timesheets of the participant's support workers
- Process payroll, withholding, filing, and payment of applicable federal, state and local employment-related taxes and insurance
- Manage budget funds and expenditures for each participant
- Track and report disbursements and balances of each participant's funds
- Process and pay invoices for services in the person-centered service delivery plan
- Provide individual periodic reports of expenditures and the status of the approved service budget to the participant or their representative and DHS, as well as the consultation services provider and lead agency as applicable
- Initiate background studies for CFSS support workers
- Help the participant obtain workers' compensation
- Educate the participant on how to employ workers
- Ensure what the participant spends their funds on follows the rules of the program and the approved plan.

Participants using the provider agency model who choose to purchase goods with their CFSS service allocation must use an FMS provider to purchase the goods.

Box checked: Vender Organization Describe:

FMS provider means a qualified organization required for participants using the budget model that is an enrolled provider with DHS to provide vendor fiscal/employer agent FMS services. DHS contracts with all FMS providers to provide FMS services. DHS determines if FMS providers meet the qualifications through a request for proposal (RFP) process at a frequency determined by DHS.

All FMS providers must:

- Enroll as a Medical Assistance Minnesota Health Care Programs (MHCP) provider and meet all applicable provider standards and requirements
- Comply with background study requirements under Minn. Stat. Ch. 245C and maintain documentation of background study requests and results
- Successfully complete a readiness review before enrollment, conducted by an individual or organization that meets the qualifications required by the state
- Have knowledge of and compliance with Internal Revenue Service (IRS) requirements
- Provide services statewide
- Meet the requirements under a collective bargaining contract.

Service Budget Methodology

Describe the budget methodology the state uses to determine the individual's service budget amount. Also describe how the state assures that the individual's budget allocation is objective and evidence based utilizing valid, reliable cost data and can be applied consistently to individuals:

The CFSS service budget amount is based on an assessment of the participant's personal care needs as defined under Minn. Stat. §256B.85, subd. 8. The service budget amount is based on an objective assessment of the participant's needs. The assessment must be conducted by a trained and certified assessor as defined under Minn. Stat. §256B.0911, subd. 3a.

Using a statistical model, the lead agency arrives at a total dollar and service amount, based on a needs assessment. Once the total benefit amount is determined, the lead agency develops and tailors a detailed spending plan that meets the participant's needs and preferences, as established in the service delivery plan.

After the assessment is completed, the assessor provides (by mail or in person) the participant with a written summary outlining their needs for care and options for services and supports, including their service authorization amount for CFSS (units of service or dollar amount). The participant works with their consultation services provider to understand the amount of their individual CFSS services and supports and to determine how they will use funds. If the participant is enrolled in a §1915(c) HCBS waiver or the Alternative Care (AC) program, or if the participant is age 65 or older and enrolled in managed care, the participant works with their case manager or care coordinator to finalize the plan for use of CFSS services, as well as additional services under the expanded service menu of one of DHS' five §1915(c) HCBS waivers to meet their needs.

Participants use their service budget to:

- Directly employ and pay qualified support workers
- Obtain covered goods as defined under the optional services and supports
- Select and pay for FMS services
- Purchase back-up systems.

The consultation services provider must approve the CFSS service delivery plan for participants without a case manager or care coordinator who is responsible for authorizing services. The case manager or care coordinator must approve the plan for participants enrolled in a §1915(c) HCBS waiver or the AC program, or for participants age 65 or older and enrolled in managed care.

Consultation services and worker training and development are authorized on a per-diem basis and do not count against a participant's CFSS service budget.

The rate for consultation services is up to $100.00 per session. Each CFSS participant will get six consultation services sessions, consisting of a total of up to $600.00 annually. The six sessions are granted for each eligible participant, including when the participant's authorization is for less than 12 months. Additional sessions can be authorized upon request.

The CFSS service delivery plan must include a detailed plan for worker training and development, including what service components identified in the Minnesota statute for CFSS (under Minn. Stat. §256B.85, subd. 18a (c)) will be used, when the service components will be used, how they will be provided and how these service components relate to the participant's individual needs and CFSS support worker services. Services include, but are not limited to:

- Support worker training on the participant's individual assessed needs
- Tuition for professional classes for the support workers related to the participant's assessed needs
- Direct observation, monitoring and documentation of support worker skills and tasks
- Activities to evaluate CFSS services and ensure worker competency.

A separate budget is available to employers of CFSS workers (i.e., CFSS agency or person/representative) to pay for training, observation, monitoring and coaching of CFSS workers. These activities help CFSS workers expand their skills to support the participant's specific needs.

When a participant is eligible for and chooses to receive CFSS services:

- The participant includes a worker training and development plan in their individual service delivery plan, with help from their consultation services provider as desired
- The consultation services provider approves the worker training and development plan
- The lead agency authorizes worker training and development for the person
- The CFSS agency (agency model) or FMS provider (budget model) bills for classes (either model) or employer training (agency model only).

To request additional funds for the participant's worker training and development budget, the CFSS provider agency or FMS provider must request an increase from DHS, the waiver case manager or the managed care organization. The entity that approves additional funds for worker training and development depends on the type of program and/or if the participant is receiving services via fee-for-service or managed care.

The CFSS provider agency or FMS provider must submit the following documentation to the appropriate entity (DHS, waiver case manager, MCO) for authorization of additional funds:

- Request for the specific dollar amount for the increase to the worker training and development budget

STATE: Minnesota

- Reason for increasing the worker training and development budget
- Documentation of completed worker training and development tasks and related spending for the current service delivery plan.

Describe how the state informs the individual of the specific dollar amount they may use for CFC services and supports before the person-centered service plan is finalized:

After the assessment is completed, the assessor will provide (by mail or in person) the participant with a written summary outlining their needs for care and options for services and supports, including the specific budget allocation amount. The participant or their representative is responsible to write the CFSS service delivery plan. Consultation services are available to the participant and/or their representative to provide assistance and support in writing the CFSS service delivery plan, to the extent desired by the participant. The plan will include how the participant will use funds for staff and goods/services.

The consultation services provider is responsible to review and approve the CFSS service delivery plan written by the participant or their representative. If the person uses CFSS services on a waiver or AC program, the lead agency case manager must also approve the plan. If the participant is age 65 or older and receives CFSS services through an MCO, the MCO care coordinator also must approve the plan. Plan approval includes ensuring the plan meets requirements and does not include services or goods that are not covered.

The consultation services provider sends copies of the approved plan to the participant and the CFSS provider agency and/or FMS provider, depending on the service model the person has chosen.

For participants who are using the provider agency model, the CFSS provider agency is responsible to work with the participant to fill in any additional service delivery details not included in the plan approved by the consultation services provider.

Describe how the individual may adjust the budget, including how he or she may freely change the budget and the circumstances, if any, which may require prior approval of the budget change from the state:

A participant might experience a change in condition or health status that results in an increased need for CFSS services.

A participant with a temporary change in condition (45 days or less) may be eligible for a 45-day temporary increase. The CFSS provider (agency model) or the participant (budget model) must notify the lead agency or FMS provider of the change in condition so the total number of units/dollars can be adjusted.

A participant with a change in condition longer than 45 days requires a reassessment to determine their eligibility and a new service authorization.

Adding goods and/or services to the budget mid-year requires prior approval.

Describe the circumstances that may require a change in the person-centered service plan:

A participant's CFSS service delivery plan (person-centered service plan) must be updated in the following situations:

- When there is a change in the participant's condition, tasks, procedures, living arrangements, representative or planned monthly use of units
- Annually at the time of the reassessment.

Describe how the individual requests a fair hearing if his or her request for a budget adjustment is denied or the amount of the budget is reduced:

When a budget is reduced, denied or terminated, the county or tribal nation provides the participant with a Notice of Action \(Service Plan\) \(PDF\). The notice of action includes:

- The reason (including the legal basis) for the decision and corresponding action
- The timeline associated with the action
- Information about the appeals process, including how to file an appeal if the participant disagrees with the decision, timelines and the participant's right to request continuation of services during an appeal.

MCOs must notify their enrolled members with written notice of denial of payment or the denial, termination or reduction (DTR) of services that the member or the member's health care provider requested. This notice includes:

- The action the MCO is taking
- The reason the MCO is taking this action
- The state and federal laws or MCO policies that support the MCO's action
- The process the member must follow to file an appeal with the MCO or the state.

Describe the procedures used to safeguard individuals when the budgeted service amount is insufficient to meet the individual's needs:

The lead agency provides an assessment summary to the participant in writing. The summary identifies appropriate CFSS supports and services that would meet the participant's assessed needs. The participant works with their consultation services provider to understand any limits to their individual services and supports.

Additionally, the following safeguards are in place:

- The participant may be eligible for services under a §1915(c) HCBS waiver that has available extended CFSS or other waiver services to meet their needs, in addition to state plan CFSS services.
- All CFSS participants may be eligible for a 45-day temporary increase. The CFSS provider (agency model) or the participant (budget model) must notify the lead agency or FMS provider of the change in condition so the total number of units/dollars can be adjusted. A participant with a change in condition longer than 45 days requires a reassessment to determine their eligibility and a new service authorization.

When a budget is reduced, denied or terminated, the lead agency provides the participant with a Notice of Action \(Service Plan\) \(PDF\). The notice of action includes:

- The reason (including the legal basis) for the decision and corresponding action
- Timeline associated with the action
- Information about the appeals process, including how to file an appeal if the participant disagrees with the decision, timelines and the participant's right to request continuation of services during an appeal.

MCOs must notify their enrolled members with written notice of denial of payment or the denial, termination or reduction (DTR) of services that the member or the member's health care provider requested. This notice includes:

- The action the MCO is taking
- The reason the MCO is taking this action
- The state and federal laws or MCO policies that support the MCO's action
- The process the member must follow to file an appeal with the MCO or the state.

Describe how the state notifies individuals of the amount of any limit to the individual's CFC services and supports:

After the assessment is completed, the assessor will provide (by mail or in person) the participant with a written summary outlining their needs for care and options for services and supports to meet their assessed needs, including the service unit amount. The participant works with their consultation services provider to understand the dollar and unit amount determined in the assessment process, as well as any limits to their individual services and supports, including how they will use funds for staff and goods. If the participant is enrolled in a §1915(c) HCBS waiver or the AC program, or if the participant is age 65 or older and enrolled in managed care, the participant works with their case manager or care coordinator to finalize the plan (after working with the consultation services provider) for use of CFSS services, as well as additional services under the expanded service menu of one of DHS' five §1915(c) HCBS waivers to meet their needs.

Describe the process for making adjustments to the individual's budget when a reassessment indicates there has been a change in his or her medical condition, functional status, or living situation:

A participant might experience a change in condition or health status that results in an increased need for CFSS services, including during the time of reassessment.

A participant with a temporary change in condition (45 days or less) may be eligible for a 45-day temporary increase. The CFSS provider (agency model) or the participant (budget model) must notify the lead agency or FMS provider of the change in condition so the total number of units/dollars can be adjusted.

A participant with a change in condition longer than 45 days requires a reassessment to determine their budget amount and a new service authorization.

Mandatory Services and Supports

1. Assistance with activities of daily living (ADLs), instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs), and health-related tasks through hand-on assistance, supervision, and/or cueing.

Identify the activities to be provided by applicable provider type and describe any service limitations related to such activities.

Box checked: Personal Attendant Services. Describe:

Personal attendant services include assistance to accomplish activities of daily living (ADLs), instrumental activities of daily living (IADLs) and health-related procedures and tasks through hands-on assistance to accomplish the task or constant supervision and cueing to accomplish the task. Personal care attendant services also may include observation and redirection to the participant for episodes of behavior that need redirection, as identified in the CFSS service delivery plan

ADLs include dressing, grooming, bathing, eating, transfers, mobility, positioning and toileting.

IADLs include activities related to living independently in the community, such as attending medical appointments, providing or assisting with transportation, paying bills, communicating by telephone or other media, completing household tasks necessary to support the participant with an assessed need, such as planning and preparing meals or shopping for food, clothing and other essential items.

Health-related procedures and tasks are procedures and tasks performed by a support worker that can be delegated or assigned by a health care professional licensed under Minnesota state law. Health-related procedures and tasks may include assistance with self-administered medications, interventions for seizure disorders, range-of-motion and passive exercise, clean tracheostomy suctioning and services to a participant who uses ventilator support or other activities within the scope of CFSS that meet the definition of health-related procedures or tasks.

Personal attendant services may be delivered individually (1:1) or as shared care (1:2 or 1:3).

CFSS support workers are limited to providing 310 hours of care per calendar month, regardless of the number of participants they serve or the number of agencies or participants that employ the support worker.

The participant's spouse or parents, stepparents or legal guardians of a participant younger than age 18 may be support workers. These support workers cannot provide any Medical Assistance home and community-based services (HCBS) in excess of 40 hours per seven-day period, regardless of the number of parents providing services, combination of parents and spouses providing services or number of children who receive Medical Assistance services.

Personal attendant services do not include:

- CFSS provided by a participant's representative or paid legal guardian

Describe any limitations for the systems or mechanisms provided:

Personal emergency response systems (PERS) covers:

- Purchase of the PERS equipment, including necessary training or instruction on the use of the equipment
- Installation (set up, testing) and monitoring of the device.

PERS does not cover:

- Equipment used to deliver Medical Assistance or other waiver services
- Sensing and/or monitoring systems that do not require activation by the person
- Supervision or monitoring of ADLs provided to meet the requirements of another service
- Telehealth and biometric monitoring devices
- Video equipment.

The following information must be documented in the person's CFSS service delivery plan:

- The participant's assessed need for PERS
- The type of PERS equipment the participant will use
- How the PERS equipment will meet the participant's assessed need
- Back-up system for PERS equipment during electrical outages or other equipment malfunctions
- Training for the participant and their paid and/or informal caregivers (if applicable) on the use of the equipment
- Fees for equipment purchase, installation and monthly monitoring.

Individual back-up supports:

The participant can identify individual(s) to provide back-up supports. The individual(s) chosen to provide back-up supports must be identified in the person's CFSS service delivery plan. The participant's CFSS service delivery plan must also include a description of how the participant will communicate with or summon the designated back-up supports.

Reimbursement for back-up systems and supports is limited to PERS to ensure continuity of services and supports and are available for participants who:

- Live alone or are alone for significant parts of the day
- Have no regular caregiver for extended periods of time and would otherwise require extensive routine supervision
- Have not identified/chosen to identify a person for their back-up support.

Describe the voluntary training program the state will provide to individuals on selecting, managing and dismissing attendants:

CFSS includes consultation services, which supports participants to select, manage and dismiss support workers. Consultation services – ongoing support is offered and available to people receiving CFSS services. Consultation services – ongoing support includes:

- Training the participant to interview, select, manage interactions with and dismiss support workers
- Responding to the participant's questions related to self-directed tasks or other concerns throughout the CFSS service delivery plan year
- Revising the person-centered CFSS service delivery plan to achieve quality service outcomes.

The consultation services provider will maintain and document routine communication with the participant to review services and plan implementation. The participant has the option to request additional ongoing support from the consultation services provider throughout the course of receiving CFSS. This may occur when the participant chooses to change their plan or when they have a change in condition that needs to be addressed in the plan. A participant using the budget model may also need support from the consultation services provider to help them understand their role as the employer.

Consultation services providers are required to employ a lead professional staff member that meets certain education criteria. The lead employee must meet at least one of the following education requirements:

1. Be a doctor of medicine or osteopathy
2. Be a registered nurse
3. Have a bachelor's degree or higher, or a certification as appropriate, in one of the following fields:
 - a. Occupational therapist
 - b. Physical therapist
 - c. Psychologist
 - d. Social worker
 - e. Speech-language pathologist or audiologist
 - f. Professional recreation staff
 - g. Professional dietitian
 - h. Designation as a human services professional
4. Have at least one year of experience working directly with people who have an intellectual disability or other developmental disability and have a degree in a discipline associated with at least one of the following fields of study:
 - a. Human behavior (e.g., psychology, sociology, speech communication, gerontology)
 - b. Human skill development (e.g., education, counseling, human development)
 - c. Humans and their cultural behavior (e.g., anthropology)
 - d. Human condition (e.g., literature, art)
 - e. Any other study of services related to basic human care needs (e.g., rehabilitation counseling).

Staff members working directly with participants (but not as the lead employee of a consultation services provider) must meet the education requirements listed in the lead employee education section above or meet the education substitution. These staff members can substitute one of the following for a bachelor's degree:

- Experience coordinating or directing services for people with disabilities or people older than age 65, including self-directed services
- Experience coordinating their own services.

- Have the ability to provide services statewide (either in person or remotely)
- Have an office located in Minnesota
- Have a toll-free phone number and secure fax number
- Have never had a lead agency contract or provider agreement discontinued due to fraud
- Have never had any owners, managers or board members who have been disqualified under the criminal background check system
- Ensure employees complete all DHS-mandated training applicable to their roles.

The lead employee must:

- Be age 18 or older
- Clear a background study as required under Minn. Stat. Ch. 245C
- Have a minimum of two years of full-time experience in the field of self-direction.

All staff members working directly with participants (but not as the lead employee) must:

- Be age 18 or older
- Clear a background study as required under Minn. Stat. Ch. 245C.

Optional Services and Supports:

Indicate which of the following optional services and supports the state provides and provide a detailed description of these benefits and any limitations applicable to them.

assistance, to the extent that expenditures would otherwise be made for the human assistance. Include a service description including provider type and any limitations for each service provided.

CFSS may cover the costs of goods that either:

- Increase a participant's independence
- Decrease a participant's need for assistance with an assessed need from another person.

Expenditures for goods and services must:

- Relate to a need identified in the participant's service delivery plan
- Be priced at fair market value
- Increase the participant's independence or substitute for human assistance to the extent that expenditures would otherwise be made for human assistance for the participant's assessed need
- Fit within the annual limit of the participant's approved service allocation or budget.

Examples of covered goods include, but are not limited to:

- Grab bars
- Wheelchair ramps
- Smart phone applications
- Specialized devices for dressing or grooming
- Microwave
- Laundry service
- Assistive technology
- Environmental modifications.

When the participant uses CFSS funds to purchase goods and services, the consultation services provider must review the service delivery plan and approve the request if the good(s) meet the requirements for a covered item. Then, the consultation services provider submits the plan to the lead agency. All goods must be purchased through the FMS provider.

When the participant uses the provider agency model and chooses to purchase goods through CFSS, the cost for the goods is covered using a portion of the approved number of service delivery units (service allocation). When the participant uses the budget model and chooses to purchase goods through CFSS, the cost for the goods is covered using the participant's service budget as described on pages 13-17 of this document.

Provider qualifications:

Entities providing goods or services covered by CFSS must bill for them through the FMS provider. All individuals or vendors of goods and services must have both of the following:

- The capability to perform the requested work and the ability to successfully communicate with the participant
- The necessary professional and/or commercial licenses required by federal, state and local laws and regulations, if applicable.

Home and Community Based Settings

Each individual receiving CFC services and supports must reside in a home or community-based setting and receive CFC services in community settings that meet the requirements of the code of federal regulations 42 CFR 441.530.

Setting Types (check all that apply):

Box unchecked: CFC services are only provided in private residences and are not provided in provider - owned or controlled settings.

Box checked: CFC services may be provided in private residences and in provider owned or controlled settings.

Note: CFSS services are not provided in CFC provider-owned or -controlled settings.

Box checked: The CFC benefit includes settings that have been determined home and community-based through the heightened scrutiny process. Note: The CFC provider does not own or control settings that have been determined to be HCBS through the heightened scrutiny process. These settings are owned by the provider of §1915(c) HCBS waivers.

CFSS is a participant-directed method of selecting and providing services and supports that allows the participant maximum control of the services and supports. CFSS services, by their nature, are individualized and provided in the community, the member's private home or non-disability-specific setting. CFSS services allow full access to the broader community according to the participant's needs and preferences. Participants choose which services and supports they receive and who provides them.

The CFSS provider agency does not own/control the setting. This means:

- The CFSS provider does not have a direct or indirect financial relationship with the property owners in the settings described below. Therefore; the nature of the relationship does not affect the care provided or the financial conditions applicable to tenants.
- CFSS services are not part of the package of services that may be provided by the residential setting. Participants do not need to use a specific CFSS provider in order to live in the residence.

Although the CFSS provider does not own or control the setting, person-centered planning remains an important protection to ensure participants have opportunities for full access to the greater community, to the same degree as people who do not receive Medical Assistance HCBS.

DHS will use several strategies at the provider and recipient levels to ensure ongoing compliance with the HCBS requirements and to ensure person-centered practices are at the forefront of CFSS service delivery:

- Support workers complete required person-centered training as part of worker training and development for both the agency and budget models
- Provider agencies complete initial CFSS training that includes person-centered practices, as well as service and protection-related rights

- Consultation service providers offer choices to participants regarding the services and supports they receive and from whom, and they record the alternative HCBS settings the participants considered in their service delivery plans
- Consultation service providers educate participants on CFSS service expectations and person-centered practices and their service and protection-related rights upon initial orientation and annually upon participant request
- DHS surveys participants annually on their experience with CFSS services to ensure person-centered practices are being followed and their rights are asserted and protected
- Provider agencies attest to their compliance with HCBS requirements when they enroll with DHS.

DHS' process for ongoing monitoring of HCBS compliance for CFSS services is described on pages 55-56.

1. Please identify all residential setting types in which an individual may receive services under the CFC benefit.

(a) Participants may receive CFSS in their own home or family home.

A participant's own home is defined as a single-family home or a unit in a multi-family home (e.g., apartment) where a participant lives, and the participant or their family owns/rents and maintains control over the individual unit, demonstrated by a lease agreement (if applicable).

(b) Participants may receive CFSS in residential settings that are not controlled by the provider of CFSS services.

- Settings registered by the Minnesota Department of Health (MDH) as a board and lodge establishment (e.g., hotel, VRBO)
- Medical homes for children and adults owned and operated by the home care/nursing provider

c) Participants may receive CFSS services under the CFC benefit in residential settings that are owned/controlled by the residential §1915(c) HCBS waiver service provider in the following settings:

- Customized living settings
- Integrated community supports settings

DHS ensures compliance with the HCBS rule for customized living settings and integrated community supports settings using strategies identified in DHS' approved HCBS waiver settings statewide transition plan \(STP\) \(PDF\), which addresses review criteria 4-12 in the Community First Choice \(CFC\) technical guide \(PDF\) related to provider-controlled residential settings.

Please identify all non-residential setting types in which a person may receive services under the CFC benefit.

CFSS will not be provided in non-residential provider-controlled settings, such as day service facilities or adult day centers.

Setting Assurances– The state assures the following:

Box checked: CFC services will be furnished to individuals who reside in a home or community setting, which does not include a nursing facility, institution for mental diseases, an intermediate care facility for individuals with intellectual disabilities, or a hospital providing long-term care services.

Box checked: Any permissible modifications of rights within a provider owned and controlled setting is incorporated into an individual's person-centered service plan and meets the requirements of 42 CFR 441.530(a)(vi)(F). Note: CFSS services are not provided in CFC provider owned or controlled settings.

Additional state assurances: None

Community First Choice Support System, Assessment and Service Plan Support System

Box checked: The support system is provided in accordance with the requirements of §441.555.

Provide a description of how the support system is implemented and identify the entity or entities responsible for performing support activities:Consultation services

Consultation services are an integral part of the CFSS program. Consultation services are separated into three main categories that provide different functions:

- CFSS orientation/annual
- Ongoing support
- Remediation.

All CFSS participants, regardless of service delivery method, must select a consultation services provider. Certain functions of consultation services must be provided to the participant, and some functions are optional depending on the participant's choice. Consultation service providers help the participant understand CFSS, plan for services, choose a model and create and implement their CFSS service delivery plan by providing information about services options, choices in providers and rights and responsibilities (including appeal rights).

Consultation services – CFSS orientation/annual

Consultation services for CFSS orientation/annual is a required service for all CFSS participants. After the participant's assessment is complete, the consultation services provider supports the participant in the next step of their CFSS experience. Under this activity category, the consultation service provider will:

- Educate the participant about CFSS
- Educate the participant about the agency model and budget model
- Ensure a person-centered planning process

- Help the participant or their representative write, implement and evaluate their CFSS service delivery plan, to the extent the participant desires
- Assist the participant with creating a budget if they have chosen the budget model
- Approve the service delivery plan or do the initial approval of the service delivery plan if the participant is on a §1915(c) HCBS waiver or age 65 or older and enrolled in managed care
- Provide a notice of action when denying the CFSS service delivery plan or items in the CFSS service delivery plan
- Provide the participant with a list of CFSS agency providers (if the participant chooses the agency model) or FMS providers (if the participant chooses the budget model).

Consultation services – ongoing support

Consultation services for ongoing support is offered and available to CFSS participants in both models as an optional service. In addition to the responsibilities listed above under “consultation services: orientation/annual” and the “voluntary training on how to select, manage and dismiss attendants,” section of Mandatory Services and Supports on pages 24-26 of this document, consultation services ongoing support includes:

- Training the participant to recruit, select, train, schedule, supervise, direct, evaluate and dismiss support workers
- Responding to the participant’s questions related to self-directed tasks or other concerns throughout the service plan year
- Completing a semi-annual review if the participant does not have a case manager/care coordinator and their spouse or parent (if a minor) serves as their worker.

When a participant uses the budget model, the consultation services provider will:

- Monitor the participant’s success in using the budget model and reeducate and/or recommend involuntary exit, if needed
- Work with the FMS provider to provide the participant with ongoing support to serve as the employer of their workers
- Check in with the participant to ask if they are completing employer tasks, such as:
 - Ensuring the workers are competent to meet the participant’s needs
 - Orienting and training workers
 - Evaluating workers within 30 days of hire, the start of a new plan year or after a change in condition
 - Verifying and maintaining evidence of support worker competency, including documentation
 - Completing worker performance reviews at least once per year
 - Answering the participant’s questions during check-ins.

Consultation services – QA/remediation

Consultation services providers provide additional support if a participant is not carrying out their duties under the budget model. The consultation services provider will develop an individualized plan to provide additional training, check-ins or other assistance to ensure the participant is completing employer tasks. The consultation services provider will document outcomes of the additional supports and training, and they may recommend an involuntary exit from the budget model to DHS, if needed.

The following are additional responsibilities and expectations of consultation service providers:

- Help DHS with surveys and data collection, at DHS' request
- Document complaints received for possible audit from DHS
- Have policies and procedures to meet the needs of culturally diverse people receiving services
- Review their grievance policy annually
- Pass on information from DHS (e.g., policy clarifications or changes) to participants when requested by DHS
- Comply with all specific requirements listed below, as applicable.

Provider qualifications

See the provider qualifications for consultation services providers under the “voluntary training on how to select, manage and dismiss attendants” section of the mandatory services and supports on pages 24-26. DHS determines if consultation services providers meet the qualifications through a request for proposal (RFP) process at a frequency determined by DHS. All consultation services providers must have a contract with the state to provide consultation services.

Authorization of consultation services

Consultation service providers provide all three types of consultation services (CFSS orientation/annual, ongoing support, remediation) as sessions. Only one session can be billed by a consultation services provider in a single day. Consultation service sessions are limited to six per year, unless additional sessions are approved by DHS. See the budget methodology section for additional information.

Additional supports

Worker training and development

Worker training and development is a function of CFSS that pays for the training, observation, monitoring and coaching of CFSS support workers. These activities help CFSS support workers expand their skills to support the participant's specific needs. Under the provider agency model, the CFSS agency is the employer of the support worker. Under the budget model, the participant (or their representative) is the employer of the support worker. The support worker's employer is responsible to train, supervise and evaluate the support worker's competency. The employer must orient each support worker to the participant's needs and train them on the tasks the participant needs.

All participants must have a worker training and development plan included in their CFSS service delivery plan. The plan must describe:

- What training the participant's support workers need
- Who will provide the training and the license, education, training or work experience the trainer needs
- Who will determine the support worker is competent to provide the service the participant needs

- A plan to supervise and evaluate the support workers
- A plan to evaluate whether the overall service delivery is meeting the participant's needs.

The employer must update the worker training and development plan in all of the following situations:

- At reassessment
- When a new support worker begins providing services to the participant
- When there are significant changes to the participant's service delivery plan
- When a performance review indicates a support worker needs additional training.

In the CFSS agency model, a CFSS provider agency staff member with a background relevant to the needed task trains and ensures the support worker is competent.

In the CFSS budget model, the participant is responsible to train and ensure the support worker is competent to perform the needed task. The participant or their representative cannot use the worker training and development budget to pay themselves to meet their employer responsibilities. The participant or their representative also cannot hire another individual to supervise their support workers.

In both the CFSS agency and budget models, the support worker's employer can use the CFSS worker training and development budget to pay the fees for a support worker attending a class or workshop on topics related to the participant's assessed needs. A class can take place in a variety of settings and have varying numbers of learners (e.g., one-on-one training, traditional classroom course, online class).

Worker training and development has a minimum annual allocation credited to each participant and is separate from the participant's service delivery budget. Additional funds for the participant's worker training and development may be requested and are subject to DHS approval.

Specify any tools or instruments used as part of the risk management system to identify and mitigate potential risks to the individual receiving CFC services:

Assessment and service/support planning

The comprehensive assessment tool is used to determine eligibility for CFSS. It contains assessment questions intended to help discover any potential risks to document in the CFSS service delivery plan. Assessors are responsible to identify issues that may affect the participant's health and safety.

The support plan, informed by the assessment, provides information to the participant, provider agency, support worker and consultation services provider. The support plan includes:

- Documentation of dependencies in ADLs and IADLs, presence of health-related needs and presence of level-one behaviors
- Determination of institutional level of care
- Determination of the participant's representative, if needed
- Identification of appropriate paid, unpaid and natural supports and services
- Referrals to appropriate payers and community resources
- Documentation of the plan to mitigate any identified risks.

An assessor is a mandated reporter and is required to report any suspected maltreatment of a vulnerable adult to the Minnesota Adult Abuse Reporting Center (MAARC) and to report any suspected maltreatment of a child to the local social services agency or law enforcement.

Incident reporting

CFSS provider agencies must establish policies and procedures for responding to incidents that occur while services are being provided. When the participant has a legal representative or a participant's representative, the agency must report incidents to these representatives. An incident is an occurrence that involves a participant and requires a response that is not a part of the ordinary provision of the services to that participant. Incidents include:

- Serious injury of a participant as determined by Minn. Stat. §245.91, subd. 6
- A participant's death
- Medical emergencies, unexpected serious illness or significant unexpected change in a participant's illness or medical condition that requires a call to 911, physician treatment or hospitalization
- Mental health crises that require a call to 911 or a mental health crisis intervention team
- Acts or situations involving a participant that requires a call to 911, law enforcement or the fire department
- A participant's unexplained absence
- Behavior that creates an imminent risk of harm to the participant or another person
- Reports of alleged or suspected vulnerable adult maltreatment under Minn. Stat. §626.557
- Reports of alleged or suspected maltreatment of minors under Minn. Stat. Ch. 260E.

Background study and training requirements

CFSS provider agencies, FMS providers and consultation service providers must comply with background study requirements under Minn. Stat. Ch. 245C and maintain documentation of background study requests and results. CFSS provider agencies and FMS provider are also required to comply with background study requirements in Minn. Stat. §256B.85, subd. 24.

All CFSS support workers, regardless of service delivery model, must complete a background study under Minn. Stat. Ch. 245C before enrolling with DHS as a support worker.

All CFSS support workers are mandated reporters and are required to complete minimum training components related to identifying and mitigating potential risks to CFSS participants including, but not limited to:

- Basic first aid
- Vulnerable adult and child maltreatment
- Positive behavioral practices
- Responding to a mental health crisis.

Provide a description of the conflict of interest standards that apply to all individuals and entities, public or private to ensure that a single entity doesn't provide the assessments of functional need and/or the person-centered service plan development process along with direct CFC service provision to the same individual:

CFSS provides the participant with different types of support from various entities. These entities include the lead agency conducting assessments, CFSS provider agency, consultation services provider, FMS provider and worker training and development service provider. While an entity may provide more than one of these supports, a single entity may only provide one type of support to the same CFSS participant.

The participant's representative must not have a financial interest in the provision of any services included in the participant's CFSS service delivery plan. Additional conflict-of-interest standards for a participant's representative are listed below.

Box unchecked: Conflict of Interest Exception: The only willing and qualified entity performing assessments of functional need and or developing the person-centered service plan also provide home and community-based services.

Provide a description, including firewalls, to be implemented within the entity to protect against conflict of interest, such as separation of assessment and/or planning functions from direct service provision functions, and a description of the alternative dispute resolution process:

Standards for assessors (lead agency):

Minnesota law requires all counties and the tribal nations that have elected to administer and manage HCBS program through a DHS contract to provide assessment for eligibility for long-term services and supports. The state contracts with MCOs that serve enrollees age 65 and older to manage home and community-based services and supports for those enrollees.

These entities perform assessments and develop support plans that reflect participant preferences in services and supports for self-direction and include risk management, back-up and emergency planning.

Counties, tribal nations and MCOs are not allowed to enroll as consultation services providers.

A participant's representative may not also be assigned as their lead agency assessor or case manager/care coordinator.

Standards for provider agencies:

The CFSS provider agency supports the participant with many things, including supervising the support worker(s). The CFSS agency model sets conflict-of-interest standards. The agency staff member providing supervisory duties under the CFSS agency model cannot also be the participant's:

- Family foster care provider
- Direct care (support) worker
- Paid legal guardian

- Parent or step-parent when the participant is a minor
- Responsible party
- Spouse.

A participant's representative cannot be part of the provider agency's staff unless related to the participant by blood, marriage or adoption.

Standards for consultation services providers:

Consultation services providers assist the participant with planning, developing and implementing the service delivery plan by providing information about service options, choices in providers and rights and responsibilities, including appeal rights.

Consultation services providers can only provide services within the scope of their service. Examples of activities outside of the scope of consultation services include:

- Determining the person's program eligibility
- Supporting the person's appeal of their assessment results
- Performing employer functions for a participant using the budget model or for a CFSS provider agency
- Performing the tasks of a medical provider (e.g., registered nurse, home health aide).

Consultation services providers cannot be the person's FMS provider, lead agency or the CFSS or HCBS waiver vendor or provider agency.

Counties, tribal nations and MCOs are not allowed to enroll as consultation services providers.

A participant's representative may be an employee of the consultation provider, but they cannot be an agency owner or a staff member who delivers consultation services to the participant.

A consultation services provider who has any direct or indirect financial interest in the delivery of certain services must disclose this information to the person in writing. These services include, but are not limited to:

- CFSS worker training
- Goods
- Any services provided as an MHCP-enrolled provider.

The consultation services provider must obtain a document signed by the participant stating that the participant:

- Acknowledges they understand the information disclosed about the direct or indirect financial interest
- Identifies and confirms their choices of services and providers.

Standards for FMS providers:

CFSS provider agency services cannot be provided by the FMS provider.

A participant's representative cannot be the:

- FMS staff, unless related to the participant by blood, marriage or adoption
- FMS owner or manager.

Standards for worker training and development:

A participant's representative cannot be the worker training and development service provider.

Assessment of Need

Describe the assessment process or processes the state will use to obtain information concerning the individual's needs, strengths, preferences and goals.

A person interested in receiving CFSS services must receive an assessment of need from a certified assessor. Initial assessments for CFSS are completed when the person requests an assessment from the lead agency that has jurisdiction to complete the assessment, or when another individual requests the assessment on their behalf. The lead agency schedules and conducts the assessment in person.

The assessment tool is a comprehensive, conversation-based, person-centered assessment. The assessment includes the health, psychological, functional, environmental and social needs of the individual necessary to develop a person-centered support plan that meets the person's needs and preferences.

The assessment tool includes an assessment of ADLs, IADLs, medical service needs, safety and supervision needs and informal caregiver support. The certified assessor also uses information from medical histories, physician records and reports from providers to further evaluate and understand the person's needs. For children, the assessment also includes identifying needs that are beyond what is typical for a parent. For example, a parent of a minor typically is responsible for grocery shopping, meal preparation, supervision, etc.

Lead agencies enter key summary information from the assessment (including information related to the level of care) into MMIS screening documents.

After completion of the assessment, the participant or the participant's representative develops and evaluates the CFSS service delivery plan through a person-centered planning process, with assistance from the consultation services provider as desired.

Box unchecked: The state will allow the use of telemedicine or other information technology medium in lieu of a face-to-face assessment in accordance with the federal code of regulations under §441.535. The individual is provided with the opportunity for an in-person assessment in lieu of one performed via telemedicine. Include a description about how an individual receives appropriate support including access to on-site support staff during the assessment:

The state will claim costs associated with CFC assessment activities as:

- Box unchecked: A Medicaid Service
- Box checked: An Administrative Activity

Indicate who is responsible for completing the assessment prior to developing the CFC person-centered service plan. Also specify their qualifications:

- Box unchecked: Social Worker (specify qualifications)
- Box unchecked: Registered Nurse, licensed to practice in the state, acting within scope of practice under state law.
- Box unchecked: Licensed Practical Nurse or Vocational Nurse, acting within scope of practice under state law
- Box unchecked: Licensed Physician (M.D. or O.D.), acting within scope of practice under state law
- Box unchecked: Case Manager (specify qualifications)
- Box checked: Other (specify what type of individual and their qualifications)

Assessments are completed by the lead agency that has jurisdiction to complete the assessment for the person. Each lead agency must use assessors who have completed the assessor training and the certification process. Assessors are required to be recertified every three years.

Assessors must meet one of the following requirements:

- Minimum of a bachelor's degree in social work, nursing with a public health nursing certificate or other closely related field with at least one year of home and community-based experience
- Registered nurse with at least two years of home and community-based experience who has received training and certification specific to assessment and consultation for long-term care services in the state.

Box checked: The reassessment process is conducted every: 12 months

Box unchecked: Other (must be in increments of time less than 12 months)

Describe the reassessment process the state will use when there is a significant change in the individual's needs or the individual requests a reassessment. Indicate if this process is conducted in the same manner and by the same entity as the initial assessment process or if different procedures are followed:

Reassessments are completed using the same assessment tool that is used for the initial assessment, in the same manner and many times by the same entity as the initial assessment. A different lead agency may complete the reassessment if, during the service plan year, the participant moved to a different region of the state or enrolled in managed care.

Reassessments must be completed at least every 12 months and whenever a significant change in the participant's condition warrants a comprehensive review. Annually, the CFSS provider agency (agency model) or FMS provider (CFSS budget model) requests a reassessment at least 60 days before the end of the person's service agreement.

When a participant has a significant change in condition, the participant, CFSS provider agency (agency model) or FMS provider (budget model) can request a reassessment using the Referral for Reassessment form \(PDF\). After receiving the request, the lead agency will determine if it should complete:

- A 45-day temporary increase in CFSS services
- A full reassessment.

Person-Centered Service Plan

The CFC service plan must be developed using a person-centered and person- directed planning process. This process is driven by the individual and includes people chosen by the individual to participate.

The state will claim costs associated with CFC person-centered planning process as:

- Box checked: A Medicaid Service
- Box unchecked: An Administrative Activity

Indicate who is responsible for completing the Community First Choice person-centered service plan.

- Box unchecked: Case Manager. Specify qualifications:

- Box unchecked: Licensed Practical Nurse or Vocational Nurse, acting within scope of practice under state law.
- Box unchecked: Licensed Physician (M.D. or O.D.), acting within scope of practice under state law.
- Box checked: Other. Specify provider type and qualifications: The participant or their representative, with assistance of Consultation Services as requested.

The CFSS service delivery plan is written by the participant and others chosen by the participant, which may include their representative (when applicable) and other people important in supporting them to be active in the community and/or meeting their needs described in the plan.

The consultation services provider is a neutral third party who ensures the participant is able to choose who is involved in the development of the CFSS service delivery plan. See provider qualifications under “other” below.

Provider type: Consultation services provider

Qualifications: See the provider qualifications for consultation services providers under the “voluntary training on how to select, manage and dismiss attendants” section of the mandatory services and supports on pages 24-26 of this document. DHS determines if consultation services providers meet the qualifications through a request for proposal (RFP) process at a frequency determined by DHS. All consultation services providers must have a contract with the state to provide consultation services.

Person-Centered Service Plan Development Process: Use the section below to describe the process that is used to develop the person-centered service plan.

Specify the supports and information that are made available to the individual (and/or family or authorized representative, as appropriate) to direct and be actively engaged in the person-centered service plan development process and the individual's authority to determine who is included in the process:

The CFSS service delivery plan is based on the comprehensive assessment, which includes the health, psychological, functional, environmental and social needs of the participant necessary to develop a plan that meets the participant's needs and preferences. The comprehensive assessment is completed by a certified assessor, as described under the assessment section. The participant may choose who is present for the assessment, including their representative, family members and other people important to them. Service providers may be present to provide care during the assessment and service planning activities, but providers are not included in the assessment process.

The assessor (as defined in Minn. Stat. §256B.0911) must determine and communicate the results of the assessment and any recommendations and authorizations for CFSS within 10 business days to the participant or their representative and chosen CFSS providers.

The assessor provides assessment results to the consultation service provider, FMS provider and/or CFSS provider agency as applicable.

After the assessment, the participant chooses a consultation services provider who provides them with information about CFSS service models, rights and responsibilities (including appeal rights), choice in providers and CFSS policies. The consultation services provider also provides the participant with the CFSS service delivery plan template.

The participant or their representative is responsible to write the CFSS service delivery plan. Consultation services are available to the participant and/or their representative to provide assistance and support in writing the CFSS service delivery plan, to the extent desired by the participant. The participant may choose others to participate in the CFSS service delivery plan development process who are important in supporting them to be active in their community and/or meeting their assessed needs. This could include their representative, family members, friends, natural supports or others.

Indicate who develops the person-centered service plan. Identify what individuals, other than the individual receiving services or their authorized representative, are expected to participate in the person-centered service plan development process. Please explain how the state assures that the individual has the opportunity to include participants of their choice:

The CFSS service delivery plan is written by the participant and others chosen by the participant, which may include their representative (when applicable) and other people important to supporting the participant to be active in the community and/or meeting their needs described in the plan.

The consultation services provider is a neutral third party who ensures the participant is able to choose who is involved in the development of the service delivery plan.

The CFSS service delivery plan must be developed and evaluated through a person-centered planning process by the participant or the participant's representative. The consultation services provider can help the participant plan, develop and implement the service delivery plan by providing information about service options, choice in providers and rights and responsibilities, including appeal rights. The consultation services provider must support the participant in developing the service delivery plan, to the extent the participant desires. The participant submits the completed service delivery plan to the consultation services provider.

The consultation services provider is responsible to review and approve the CFSS service delivery plan written by the participant or their representative. If the participant uses CFSS services on a waiver or AC program, the lead agency case manager also must approve the plan. If the participant is age 65 or older and receives CFSS services through an MCO, the MCO care coordinator also must approve the plan. Plan approval includes ensuring the plan meets requirements and does not include services or goods that are not covered.

The consultation services provider sends copies of the approved plan to the participant and the CFSS provider agency and/or FMS provider, depending on the service model the person has chosen.

For participants who are using the provider agency model, the CFSS provider agency is responsible to work with the participant to fill in any additional service delivery details not included in the plan approved by the consultation services provider.

Describe the timing of the person-centered service plan development to assure the individual has access to services as quickly as possible; describe how and when it is updated, including mechanisms to address changing circumstances and needs or at the request of the individual:

The lead agency's assessor must determine and communicate (in writing) the results of the assessment and any recommendations and authorizations for CFSS within 10 business days to the participant or their representative and chosen CFSS providers. The written communication from the lead agency allows the participant to begin developing the CFSS service delivery plan as soon as possible.

The written communication must include the participant's right to appeal the assessment under Minn. Stat. §256.045, subd. 3. The participant or their representative will complete the CFSS service delivery plan based on the information provided by the lead agency's assessor, with assistance from the consultation service provider, if requested. The consultation services provider supports the participant in the person-centered planning process.

The participant/representative and consultation services provider review the CFSS service delivery plan at least annually upon reassessment, or more frequently when there is a significant change in the participant's condition, a change in the participant's need for services and supports or if the participant requests a person-centered assessment. When the participant has an assessment that results in a change of the participant's need for services, the consultation services provider will help the participant change the service delivery plan so it aligns with the change in service need.

The lead agency must conduct an assessment within 20 business days of receiving a request when there is a significant change in the participant's condition, a change in the participant's need for services and supports or if the participant requests a person-centered assessment. If the participant has a temporary change in condition that requires more support, the lead agency can conduct a telephone assessment for a temporary increase.

If the participant has an immediate need to begin services, the lead agency can conduct a telephone assessment for a temporary start of services. A participant authorized for a 45-day temporary start does not need to meet with a consultation services provider before they start services. To continue using CFSS services beyond the 45-day temporary start, the participant must select a consultation services provider, complete an orientation with that provider, select a model and write an approved CFSS service delivery plan before their temporary authorization ends.

Describe the state's expectations regarding the scheduling and location of meetings to accommodate individuals receiving services and how cultural considerations of the individual are reflected in the development of the person-centered service plan:

The person-centered planning process must occur at times and locations convenient to the participant and must reflect the participant's cultural considerations.

All CFSS providers (consultation services, provider agency, etc.) are expected to offer a variety of modes to meet and communicate with the participant or their representative. The modes can include communication via email, text, phone, in person, video phone or any other mode preferred by the participant. Meetings should be at a location chosen by the participant, with consideration for the participant's preferences for privacy. Meetings must be scheduled flexibly to meet the participant's needs.

DHS requires CFSS providers to develop and implement policies and procedures that emphasize the application and philosophy of participant direction, including being culturally competent in all business practices to communicate effectively with participants of all ages, needs, disabilities and chronic conditions. These expectations also include meeting and communicating with the participant's representative. These expectations are addressed in the planning process.

Describe how the service plan development process ensures that the person-centered service plan addresses the individual's goals, needs (including health care needs), and preferences and offers choices regarding the services and supports they receive and from whom. Please include a description of how the state records in the person-centered service plan the alternative home and community based settings that were considered by the individual:

After the assessment and completion of a lead-agency-developed support plan that identifies the participant's needs (including health care needs), preferences and goals, the participant chooses a consultation services provider. The consultation services provider:

- Provides orientation regarding the provider agency model and the budget model, including information on roles, responsibilities, processes, policies, options available for services and supports and appeals

- Helps the participant create a plan for the budget under the budget model and, prior to completing the CFSS service delivery plan:
 - Calculates the specific dollar amount
 - Compares the costs of the agency and budget models
 - Describes any limitations associated with the models
- Provides support to the participant (to the extent the participant desires) to develop the plan and ensure the services and supports in the plan match the participant's needs, goals and preferences
- Offers choices to the participant regarding the services and supports they receive and from whom
- Records the alternative HCBS settings the participant considered.

The participant or their representative creates the CFSS service delivery plan using a template developed by DHS or collaborative care plan used by MCOs, which documents:

- People chosen by the participant for support in the planning process and in the provision of services and supports
- The participant's chosen service model and their corresponding choice of provider agency or FMS provider
- HCBS setting options the participant considered and chose
- The participant's strengths, preferences, goals and preferred outcomes
- How the participant's areas of assessed needs will be met, including assistance with ADLs, IADLs, observation and redirection of behavior, health-related needs, or assistance with maintenance, acquisition or enhancement of skills
- Instructions on what support the worker will provide and how the worker will provide it in response to the participant's assessed needs and to achieved the participant's goals and outcomes
- Plans for worker training and development, as applicable
- Risk factors and measures in place to minimize them, including individualized back-up plans
- Individuals or entities responsible for monitoring the service delivery plan.

For the budget model, the CFSS service delivery plan must include a detailed spending budget that identifies support-worker-related expenses and other purchases.

The CFSS service delivery plan must be understandable to the participant and the individuals providing support. When the CFSS service delivery plan is finalized and agreed to in writing by the participant or their representative, the consultation services provider distributes it to the participant and others involved in the CFSS service delivery plan.

Describe the strategies used for resolving conflict or disagreements within the process:

Throughout the planning process, the assessor gives the participant information about their eligibility for CFSS, including allowable expenditures, and information about the standard appeal process for any disagreement with the service delivery plan or any decision made during the approval process.

Please describe how the person-centered service plan development process provides for the assignment of responsibilities for the development of the plan and to implement and monitor the plan.

The participant or their representative is responsible to develop the CFSS service delivery plan, with help from the consultation services provider (to the extent desired by the participant). The CFSS service delivery plan reflects the services and supports the participant chooses to meet their assessed needs and identifies the individual or entity responsible for monitoring the CFSS service delivery plan.

When the participant has chosen the provider agency model, the provider agency, participant and their representative (when applicable) are responsible for implementing and monitoring the CFSS service delivery plan. The provider agency is responsible for completing an evaluation of CFSS services with 90 days of service initiation and at least quarterly thereafter.

When the participant has chosen the budget model, the participant, their representative (when applicable) and the FMS provider are responsible for implementing and monitoring the CFSS service delivery plan and expenditures.

If a participant is on a waiver or is age 65 or older and enrolled with an MCO, the case manager or care coordinator also have a role in implementing and monitoring the CFSS service delivery plan.

Describe the person-centered service plan review process the state will use. In the description please indicate if this process is conducted in the same manner and by the same entity as the initial service plan review process or if different procedures are followed:

The participant and others chosen by the participant are responsible to review the CFSS service delivery plan. The participant may choose to include their representative, when applicable, as well as any other people important in supporting the participant to be active in the community and/or meeting their needs. Other entities that review the CFSS service delivery plan include the case manager or care coordinator (when applicable), consultation service provider and, depending on the service model chosen by the participant, the provider agency or FMS provider.

The CFSS service delivery plan review is conducted in the same manner and by the same entity as the initial CFSS service delivery plan. Different entities may review the CFSS service delivery plan in certain circumstances, including if the participant has chosen a different consultation service provider during the year, changed service models, changed their county of residence or changed their MCO. The CFSS service delivery plan must be reviewed at least annually and whenever the participant has a change in condition.

The consultation services provider will assist the participant with the service delivery plan review and implementing any changes by providing information about how to change the service delivery plan based on the needs identified.

Quality Assurance System

Please describe the state's quality improvement strategy:

DHS will review and analyze performance and remediation data (“monitoring data”) according to the following process. Problems or concerns that require intervention beyond the existing remediation processes (i.e., system improvement) will undergo more advanced analysis and new/improved policy and/or procedure development, testing and implementation.

Data sources:

- Input (all identified CFSS program indicator data sources)
- Performance measure and remediation (monitoring) data.

Data analysis:

1. Is there a problem (single instance or trend) indicated by the monitoring data?
 - If yes, test data (step 2).
 - If no, return to monitoring.
2. Is the problem real (e.g., not a statistical artifact)?
 - If yes, identify what type of problem is indicated (i.e., policy, process and/or “bad actor”).
 - If no, return to monitoring.
3. Do existing remediation processes address the identified problem?
 - If yes, remediate and return to monitoring.

- If no, enter the appropriate system improvement realm (i.e., policy or process analysis).

System improvement:

Policy analysis realm

1. Can the problem's cause(s) be identified from analysis of the monitoring data?

- If yes, develop data-driven policy alternatives.
- If no, develop theory-driven policy alternatives.

2. Test policy alternative(s).

3. Select the "best" policy alternative.

4. Enact the new policy and return to monitoring.

Process analysis realm

1. Is the problem an internal (i.e., DHS) or external process issue?

2a. If it is an internal process issue, can the cause(s) be identified from analysis of the monitoring data?

- If yes, develop data-driven internal process alternatives.
- If no, develop theory-driven internal process alternatives.

2b. If it is an external process issue, can the cause(s) be identified from analysis of the monitoring data?

- If yes, develop data-driven external process alternatives.
- If no, develop theory-driven external process alternatives.

3. Test process alternative(s).

4. Select the "best" process alternative.

5. Enact the new process or processes and return to monitoring.

Per the same process outlined above, DHS will monitor and analyze the effects of system design changes and undertake additional system redesign/improvement, as needed. DHS will communicate high-level monitoring and trending data to stakeholders and the public via multiple communication channels.

Describe the methods the state will use to continuously monitor the health and welfare of each individual who receives home and community-based attendant services and supports, including a process for the mandatory reporting, investigation, and resolution of allegations of neglect, abuse, or exploitation in connection with the provision of such services and supports:

DHS seeks to prevent maltreatment through a variety of processes, including:

- CFSS provider background studies
- Support worker certification requirements
- Foundational and participant-centered provider training requirements

- Identification and management of participant health and safety risks through the assessment and support planning process.

The support and CFSS service planning process directs the identification and alignment of services to meet the participant's health and safety needs. An emergency back-up plan ensures a concrete approach to managing unanticipated situations that might otherwise result in maltreatment. It provides specific direction on how to manage general and unavailable staffing emergencies. The consultation services provider is responsible to support the participant or their representative to develop an emergency back-up plan that will ensure the participant's health and safety. Case managers/care coordinators also have an ongoing responsibility to monitor the implementation of CFSS service delivery plans to ensure the participant's health and safety.

The consultation services provider works with the CFSS employer (e.g., CFSS provider agency or participant under the budget model) to ensure the CFSS service delivery plan adequately addresses the health and safety issues and risks identified in the participant's assessment. For participants who use the agency model, CFSS provider agencies monitor service delivery, including the health and safety of participants, on a quarterly basis. If the quarterly monitoring indicates a need for refinement of the participant's CFSS service delivery plan or a need for reassessment, the CFSS agency and/or participant work with the consultation services providers or the lead agency.

The consultation services provider is responsible to ensure support worker training is addressed and support worker performance is documented as required. For participants who use the budget model, the consultation services provider also is responsible to ensure the participant's health and safety is managed appropriately. The consultation services provider supports participants using the budget model in modifying the CFSS service delivery plan and seeking reassessment, as needed.

The consultation services provider is responsible to monitor services on a semi-annual basis for CFSS budget model participants who both use a parent of a minor or a spouse as a support worker and do not have a case manager or care coordinator. This monitoring includes ensuring services and/or supports and the service delivery plan are meeting the participant's health and safety needs. The consultation services provider helps the participant make changes to the service delivery plan, as needed.

When a CFSS participant is enrolled in a §1915(c) HCBS waiver or is age 65 or older and enrolled in managed care, the case manager/care coordination has comprehensive monitoring responsibilities. The case manager/care coordinator responds to changes in the participant's health and safety needs, which involves coordinating with the consultation services provider to modify the participant's CFSS service delivery plan, assessing whether other services (e.g., waiver) might help meet the participant's needs or referring the participant for a reassessment.

DHS manages intake and responds to reports of alleged maltreatment of vulnerable adults and alleged maltreatment of children through the state's adult and child protection systems, pursuant to Minn. Stat. §626.557 to 626.5572 and Minn. Stat. Chapter 260E. Maltreatment includes incidents of abuse, neglect or exploitation. State law requires mandated reporters to report suspected maltreatment immediately and encourages all people to report suspected maltreatment. Maltreatment includes, but is not limited to, criminal acts; actions that cause physical pain, injury or emotional distress; adverse or deprivation procedures not authorized under statute; unreasonable confinement; involuntary seclusion; forced separation; failure or omission of a caregiver who has assumed responsibility to provide food, shelter, clothing, health care or supervision; and, for adults, failure by the person to meet their own basic needs and financial exploitation.

Maltreatment reports involving vulnerable adults are made to the Minnesota Adult Abuse Reporting Center (MAARC), as required in statute. All reports of suspected maltreatment made to the MAARC are forwarded to the lead investigative agency (LIA) or agencies responsible, under statute, for investigation and for protective services. If a report is made initially to law enforcement or an LIA, those agencies are required to take the report and immediately forward it to the MAARC. LIAs include DHS, the Department of Health (MDH) and county social service agencies. Reports alleging a crime are also referred to law enforcement for criminal investigation. The MAARC assesses all maltreatment reports for immediate risk to the vulnerable adult and makes an immediate referral to the county for emergency protective services.

Maltreatment reports involving children are made to the county/tribal social service agency or the police. (Reports involving state-licensed facilities may, but rarely, come directly into the state licensing entity.) The county local welfare agency that receives a maltreatment report is responsible for assessing allegations and providing child protection services. County agencies undertake family assessment or, where they have jurisdiction, investigation activities. When a maltreatment allegation involves a state-licensed facility, the county forwards the maltreatment report to the appropriate state lead investigative entity: DHS or MDH. County lead investigative agencies follow up, to conclusion, on the vast majority of maltreatment reports involving children.

Percent of reports of maltreatment involving adults who receive CFSS that were submitted to the MAARC and referred to an LIA in a timely manner. Numerator: Number of allegations of maltreatment involving adults who receive CFSS that were reported to the MAARC and referred to an LIA within two working days. Denominator: Number of allegations of maltreatment of CFSS adults reported to the MAARC in the review period.

Describe how the state measures individual outcomes associated with the receipt of home and community-based attendant services and supports as set forth in the person centered CFSS service delivery plan, particularly for the health and welfare of individuals receiving such services and supports. (These measures must be reported to CMS upon request.)

DHS measures individual outcomes associated with CFSS service delivery plans through participant reports received at reassessment and via participant satisfaction surveys administered by consultation services providers.

The reassessment process includes a discussion between the assessor and participant on progress toward last year's goals, if services are meeting identified needs and whether any service changes are needed. The consultation services provider uses documentation of that discussion with the participant when developing the CFSS service delivery plan.

Under the agency model, the CFSS provider agency must evaluate services within 90 days of initiation and quarterly thereafter. The provider agency must conduct the first year of quarterly reviews in person. After the first year, DHS requires a minimum of one in-person quarterly review per year. CFSS quarterly evaluations include assessment of whether:

- The participant's CFSS service delivery plan accurately identifies the current service need
- The services are supporting the participant to accomplish goals in the service delivery plan
- The support worker(s) are competent to perform the tasks in the service delivery plan
- The provider agency, participant or participant's representative has any other concerns about the services or service delivery plan.

DHS tracks outcomes associated with CFSS services through review and analysis of the data it requires consultation services providers to collect and submit. This includes responses on questions during CFSS service delivery planning sessions with participants, information gathered at required semi-annual reviews and responses from on annual participant satisfaction surveys. DHS directs consultation services providers to measure participant satisfaction with the:

- Participant's chosen consultation services provider
- Provision of consultation services information and support
- Participant's CFSS service delivery plan in meeting their assessed needs
- Provision of CFSS services in safeguarding their health and safety
- Provision of CFSS services in helping them meet their service goals.

Monitoring Metrics:

Percent of CFSS participants that reported they were satisfied with their CFSS service delivery plan adequately addressing their health and safety needs. Numerator: Number of CFSS participants that reported their CFSS service delivery plan adequately addressed their health and safety needs.

Denominator: Number of participants providing response during the review period.

Percent of CFSS participants that reported that their CFSS support worker assisted them in meeting their service goals. Numerator: Number of participants that reported that their CFSS support worker assisted them in meeting their service goals. Denominator: Number of participants providing response during the review period.

Percent difference between the dollar amount encumbered for CFSS services compared to the dollar amount claimed for CFSS services provided to participants. Numerator: Dollar amount claimed for CFSS fee-for-service (FFS) services. Denominator: Dollar amount encumbered for CFSS services provided to FFS participants during the review period.

Describe the standards for all service delivery models for training, appeals for denials and reconsideration procedures for an individual's person-centered CFSS service delivery plan:

Training:

Support workers are required to complete standardized and person-centered training. This training also is available to CFSS participants at a variety of levels, depending on their chosen service model.

Support workers must successfully complete CFSS certification training and the additional training determined necessary to meet the participant's needs. All CFSS participants must have a worker training and development plan that describes necessary support worker training and the plan for evaluating support worker competency. The support worker's employer (i.e., CFSS provider agency or budget model participant) is responsible to monitor support workers' completion of training and evaluate support workers' competency. The worker training and development plan is updated at reassessment, whenever there is a change in support workers or the service delivery plan or whenever the support worker's performance review reveals a need for additional training.

Consultation services providers offer training to help all participants understand CFSS services, service model options and how to write, implement and evaluate their CFSS service delivery plan. They also help participants acquire skills for interviewing, selecting, managing, evaluating and dismissing support workers. Additionally, consultation services providers offer training to budget model participants to assist them in their role as a managing employer, including overseeing the training of their support workers.

Support workers provide assistance and training to the participant (as directed by the participant's service delivery plan) that is intended to maximize independence and integration in the community, preserve functioning and defer or eliminate the likelihood of future institutional placement. This includes functional-skills training through hands-on assistance, supervision and cueing to acquire, maintain and/or enhance the skills necessary to accomplish ADLs, IADLs and health-related tasks.

DHS monitors person-centered CFSS participant training and satisfaction. Across both service models, consultation services providers report annually on participant satisfaction with the training and assistance provided to them in developing their CFSS service delivery plan.

Fair Hearings:

DHS requires that CFSS participants receive fair hearing information when they apply for Medicaid, are assessed for services and whenever a service authorization is initiated or modified. Consultation service providers educate and help participants understand their appeal rights related to the CFSS service delivery plan.

When a budget is reduced, denied or terminated, the lead agency provides the participant with a Notice of Action \(Service Plan\) \(PDF\). The notice of action includes:

- The reason (including the legal basis) for the decision and corresponding action
- Timeline associated with the action
- Information about the appeals process, including how to file an appeal if the participant disagrees with the decision, timelines and the participant's right to request continuation of services during an appeal.

Managed care organizations (MCOs) must notify their enrolled members with written notice of denial of payment or the denial, termination or reduction (DTR) of services that the member or the member's health care provider requested. This notice includes:

- The action the MCO is taking
- The reason the MCO is taking this action
- The state and federal laws or MCO policies that support the MCO's action
- The process the member must follow to file an appeal with the MCO or the state.

Participants may also submit fair hearing requests if they feel that they have not been offered free choice of service provider.

DHS also tracks patterns in eligibility, service/budget allocation, service delivery plan and termination.

Monitoring Metrics:

Percent completion of support worker training, as directed by the support worker training and development plan of CFSS agency model participants. Numerator: Number of agency model participants for whom support worker training was completed as directed by the support worker training and development plan of CFSS agency model participants. Denominator: Number of agency model participants for whom training was due to be completed during the review period.

Percent completion of support worker training, as directed by the support worker training and development plan of CFSS budget model participants. Numerator: Number of budget model participants for whom support worker training was completed as directed by the support worker training and development plan. Denominator: Number of budget model participants for whom training was due to be completed during the review period.

Percent of CFSS participants who reported they were satisfied with the training/assistance provided by consultation services providers in developing their CFSS service delivery plan. Numerator: Number of CFSS participants who reported they were satisfied with the training provided by consultation services providers in developing their CFSS service delivery plan. Denominator: Number of CFSS participants providing response during the review period.

Percent of CFSS FFS participants who did not file an appeal that progressed to a hearing before an appeals judge. Numerator: Number of CFSS FFS participants who did not file an appeal that progressed to a hearing before an appeals judge. Denominator: Number of CFSS FFS participants during the review period.

Describe the methods used to monitor provider qualifications:

DHS authorizes CFSS services for delivery exclusively by actively enrolled Minnesota Health Care Programs (MHCP) service providers. Approved MHCP CFSS providers must meet and maintain relevant certification, service standards and contract requirements as required by state and federal law.

Support workers must complete a background study and standardized CFSS certification course, including a passing competency test, before they can enroll as an MHCP provider eligible to deliver services. The certification course includes training on first aid, Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) universal precautions, person-centered planning and self-direction, recognition and reporting of maltreatment and a comprehensive review of support worker roles and responsibilities. MHCP monitors enrolled, qualified support workers on an ongoing basis through monthly review of federal and state provider integrity lists and recertification process whenever the worker changes CFSS provider agencies or FMS provider affiliation.

The support worker's employer (i.e., the CFSS provider agency or the budget model participant) oversees the support worker's training and development plan and evaluates the support worker's competency and performance. CFSS provider agencies must evaluate workers within 30 days of them beginning to deliver services, including shared services. The provider agency verifies and maintains evidence of, minimally annual performance reviews and completed training per the support worker's training and development plan. Consultation services providers assist budget model participants with support worker monitoring and management functions, including the charting of worker performance improvement initiatives and, when needed, assistance with worker discharge.

Consistent with state and federal law, DHS requires all enrolled providers to be screened based on the level of risk of fraud, waste or abuse to the Medicaid (Medical Assistance) program. CFSS provider agencies and consultation services providers are classified as providers who are at a "moderate" or "high risk" of perpetrating fraud, waste or abuse. These providers receive both pre- and post-enrollment site visits by DHS' Office of Inspector General (OIG) as part the MHCP enrollment screening process. OIG's Surveillance and Integrity Review Section (SIRS) Provider Screening unit conducts pre- and post-enrollment on-site visits to verify that enrollment information submitted to DHS is accurate and complies with federal and state law. This includes a review of employee qualifications and provider policies and procedures. When program integrity concerns are identified, they are referred to the SIRS Provider Investigations unit.

FMS providers must successfully complete a readiness review through an external FMS review vendor before responding to DHS' request for proposal. Once awarded a contract and enrolled as a qualified MHCP provider, the FMS provider receives a site visit conducted by DHS within the first year of service provision. Every three years thereafter, DHS conducts a contract-monitoring desk audit. If the desk audit indicates the provider failed to comply with tasks and deliverables, DHS will develop a corrective action plan and may ultimately require an external review.

DHS maintains a list of active MHCP providers in the Medicaid Management Information System (MMIS) provider subsystem. MMIS system edits ensure that payment is made only to enrolled, active MHCP providers authorized to provide the service(s) for which they have billed. If a provider's certification expires or is revoked or if a provider's contract no longer applies, DHS removes the provider from the MHCP database, unless there is correction of cited deficiencies. DHS rejects claims from providers that are not actively enrolled.

Monitoring Metrics:

Percent of CFSS claims paid to active MHCP providers. Numerator: Number of CFSS claims paid to active MHCP providers. Denominator: Number of all CFSS claims paid during the review period.

Percent of CFSS budget model participants served by support workers determined at performance review to perform job functions adequately. Numerator: Number of budget model participants served by support workers determined at performance review to perform job functions adequately.

Denominator: Number of CFSS budget model participants who evaluated support worker performance during the review period.

Describe the methods for assuring that individuals are given a choice between institutional and community based services:

As part of the assessment process, the support plan and service delivery plan requires the participant or representative to initial a series of statements indicating they understand the available choices. These choices include receiving Medicaid-funded care in an institution, Medicaid-funded community-based services, only non-Medicaid services or no services at all. The assessor presents participants who meet institutional level of care with a choice of services in the community, including 1915(c) waiver services, or in an institutional setting. The assessor documents the participant's choice of service setting and revisits the participant's choices at least annually, as part of the reassessment process.

Monitoring Metric:

Percent of CFSS participant plans reviewed that document the choice between institutional and community-based services given to participants who meet institutional level of care. Numerator: Number of CFSS participant plans reviewed that document the participant's choice between institutional and community services. Denominator: Number of CFSS participant plans reviewed during the review period.

Describe the methods for assuring that individuals are given a choice of services, supports and providers:

A participant assessed as eligible to receive CFSS services and supports receives a list of qualified consultation services providers. From this list, the participant selects the provider who will help them develop a CFSS service delivery plan. The consultation services provider presents the participant with information about and provides guidance in selecting a service model. This includes information about services and supports and the providers qualified to deliver them. The participant receives a list of qualified CFSS provider agencies (if participating in the agency model) and a list of qualified FMS providers (if participating in the budget model). In an ongoing capacity, the consultation services provider helps the participant change their service delivery plan, service model and/or service providers as needed.

The consultation services provider is required to document that each participant was offered a choice of service model, CFSS provider agency and FMS provider as relevant to their service delivery plan. As part of completing and approving a CFSS service delivery plan, a certified assessor or case manager/care coordinator confirms and documents that the participant was offered a choice of services, support and providers. DHS' waiver review team monitors compliance with participant choice requirements for participants on a 1915(c) waiver. DHS is able to access the consultation services provider's documentation of participant choice through desk reviews, as specified by contract.

Monitoring Metric:

Percent of CFSS participant plans reviewed that document the participant's choice between/among services and providers. Numerator: Number of plans reviewed in which participant choice was documented. Denominator: Number of participant plans reviewed during the review period.

Describe the methods for monitoring that the services and supports provided to each individual are appropriate:

The participant's support plan is a written summary of the needs the assessor identified through the assessment process, aligned to the services and supports the participant selected. DHS monitors the alignment of services and supports to meet the participant's needs identified in the assessment. Participants receive reassessments on an annual basis or whenever there is a change in need that requires a modification to the existing CFSS service delivery plan. DHS monitors the frequency of CFSS participant reassessments and determinations of appeals.

Consultation services providers help CFSS participants develop their person-centered CFSS service delivery plan. This includes helping the participant make informed choices of service model and service provider. DHS monitors the quality of the assistance CFSS participants receive through participant satisfaction surveys. When it identifies patterns of poor performance, DHS provides technical assistance to the consultation services provider.

CFSS provider agencies monitor the delivery of CFSS services to agency model participants. Agency model participants may request a change in service support worker, provider agency or CFSS service model at any time. Consultation services providers respond to participant requests for assistance and ensure adjustment of the participant's service delivery plan to direct delivery of appropriate services and supports.

Consultation services providers help budget model participants with the ongoing evaluation and management of CFSS services and supports. DHS monitors the effectiveness of the assistance provided to budget model participants in ensuring support worker skill and competency and successful implementation of their CFSS service delivery plan.

DHS monitors participant satisfaction with the CFSS service delivery plan as a key indicator of the adequacy and appropriateness of the services and supports participants receive through the program. When it identifies dissatisfaction, DHS assesses underlying issues and works with the consultation services provider to address problems as needed.

Monitoring Metrics:

Percent of CFSS budget model participant CFSS service delivery plans that document services to address ADL and IADL domains of assessed need. Numerator: Number of CFSS budget model participant plans that document services to address ADL and IADL domains of assessed need. Denominator: Number of budget model CFSS participant plans reviewed.

Percent of CFSS agency model participant CFSS service delivery plans that document services to address ADL and IADL domains of assessed need. Numerator: Number of CFSS agency model participant plans that document services to ADL and IADL domains of assessed need. Denominator: Number of agency model CFSS participant plans reviewed.

Percent of CFSS participant service delivery plans reviewed that are updated annually. Numerator: Number of service delivery plans reviewed in which the most recent plan has been updated annually. Denominator: Number of CFSS participants reevaluated during the review period.

Percent of CFSS participants who reported they were satisfied with their CFSS service delivery plan adequately addressing their needs. Numerator: Number of CFSS participants who reported satisfaction with their CFSS service delivery plan. Denominator: Number of participants providing response during the review period.

Describe the state process for ongoing monitoring of compliance with the home and community-based setting requirements, including systemic oversight and individual outcomes:

CFSS is a participant-directed method of selecting and providing services and supports that allows the participant maximum control of their services and supports. CFSS services, by their nature, are individualized, provided in the community, the participant's private home or non-disability-specific setting and allow full access to the broader community according to the participant's needs and preferences. Participants choose which services and supports they receive and who provides them.

The CFSS service provider does not own or control the setting. This means:

- The CFSS provider does not have a direct or indirect financial relationship with the property owners in the settings described below. Therefore, the nature of the relationship does not affect the care provided or the financial conditions applicable to tenants.
- CFSS services are not part of the package of services that may be provided by the residential setting. Participants do not need to use a specific CFSS provider in order to live in the residence.

Although the CFSS provider does not own or control the setting, person-centered planning remains an important protection to ensure participants have opportunities for full access to the greater community, to the same degree as people who do not receive Medicaid HCBS.

DHS will use several strategies at the provider and recipient levels to ensure ongoing compliance with the HCBS requirements and to ensure person-centered practices are at the forefront of CFSS service delivery:

- Support workers complete required person-centered training as part of worker training and development for both the agency and budget models
- Provider agencies complete initial CFSS training that includes person-centered practices, as well as service and protection-related rights
- Consultation service providers offer choices to participants regarding the services and supports they receive and from whom, and they record the alternative HCBS settings the participants considered in their service delivery plans
- Consultation service providers educate participants on CFSS service expectations and person-centered practices and their service and protection-related rights upon initial orientation and annually upon participant request
- DHS surveys participants annually on their experience with CFSS services to ensure person-centered practices are being followed and their rights are asserted and protected
- Provider agencies attest to their compliance with HCBS requirements when they enroll with DHS.

CFSS Program Monitoring Metrics cited in other quality assurance sections that ensure compliance with HCBS Settings requirements:

Percent completion of support worker training as directed by the support worker training and development plan of CFSS agency model participants

Percent completion of support worker training as directed by the support worker training and development plan of CFSS budget model participants

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that they were satisfied with the training/assistance provided by consultation services providers in developing their service delivery plan

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that their consultation services provider informed them adequately of the program's person-centered practices and their service/protection-related rights

Percent of CFSS participant plans reviewed that document the participant's choice between/among services and providers

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that they were satisfied with their CFSS service delivery plan adequately addressing their needs

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that their CFSS support worker assisted them in meeting their service goals

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that their CFSS support worker adequately safeguarded their service/protection-related rights

Choice and Control

Describe the quality assurance system's methods to (1) maximize consumer independence and control, (2) provide information about the provisions of quality improvement to each individual receiving CFC services and supports:

The state's CFSS quality assurance system provides for the detection and response to deficiency at the individual and system level. A cornerstone of the program is person-centeredness and the positioning of participants to maximize their independence and control. DHS ensures attainment of these goals by monitoring the training CFSS participants receive in designing their service delivery plan and the extent of choice they are afforded in selecting their service model and their service provider(s). When a performance issue arises involving a consultation services provider, DHS provides technical assistance and addresses persistent problems through contract modifications.

DHS also directs monitoring toward identifying the need for system-level improvements (e.g., improved provider training or service standards). The CFSS Implementation Council convenes quarterly to review and assess emerging issues.

Budget model participants exercise ultimate control in overseeing the delivery of their CFSS services. Through monitoring the quality of assistance participants receive in assuming their employer responsibilities, DHS ensures that budget model participants are set up for success in achieving optimal outcome, as well as maximum independence. DHS tracks performance trends across consultation services providers and addresses the need for improvement.

Annually, the assessor and the consultation services provider explain the participant's ability to ask questions, update goals and/or change their service delivery plan. Case managers/care coordinators have more frequent discussions with participants where they are involved in support planning.

Monitoring Metrics:

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that their consultation services provider informed them adequately of the program's person-centered practices and their service/protection-related rights.

Numerator: Number of CFSS participants who reported that their consultation services provider informed them adequately of person-centered practices and their service/protection-related rights.

Denominator: Number of CFSS participants providing response during the review period.

Percent of CFSS participants who reported that their CFSS support worker adequately safeguarded their service/protection-related rights. Numerator: Number of participants who reported that their CFSS support worker adequately safeguarded their service/protection-related rights. Denominator: Number of participants providing response during the review period.

Stakeholder Feedback

Describe how the state will elicit feedback from key stakeholders to improve the quality of the community-based attendant services and supports benefit:

The CFSS Development and Implementation Council is established in Minnesota statute for CFSS. As required by statute and federal requirements for Community First Choice (also known as §1915(k)), the council is made up of a majority of people receiving services or family members of people receiving services. The 24-member council comprises:

- Thirteen people receiving services or family members of people receiving services
- Two managed care representatives
- Two county assessors or case managers
- One Individual Education Program (IEP) or school representative
- Two advocate representatives
- Two PCA agency representatives
- Two fiscal support entity or financial management services (FMS) representatives.

Additional membership details can be found on the Office of the Minnesota Secretary of State Board and Commission page.

The CFSS Development and Implementation Council meets quarterly and incorporates stakeholder feedback into its quality improvement strategy in the following ways:

1. DHS requests feedback from all CFSS participants using the annual consultation services survey. This survey collects information about the support planning process and service delivery. DHS uses this information as a key data source in its quality management strategy that was described earlier.
2. DHS convenes quarterly with the CFSS Implementation Council to review participant survey data and trends and other program quality data.
3. DHS makes summary information about the CFSS program available on the program website and fact sheets.
4. DHS holds webinars and community forums to review major program changes that are being considered or implemented.

- A competitive workforce factor multiplier was applied to the direct staffing wage to address the difference in average wages for direct care staff and other occupations with similar education, training, and experience requirements, as identified by the BLS Occupational Handbook.
- The average wages were adjusted to differentiate between shared and individual staffing.
- Shared staffing was taken into account, when staff are available to provide services to more than 1 person and individual staffing, when direct care staff are available to solely provide support as a 1-to-1 interaction with a specific individual.
- These wage expenses were multiplied by factors for relief staffing, ancillary staff needs, employee-related taxes and benefits, and client programming.
