PEOPLE WITH MENTAL ILLNESS CAN AND DO RECOVER

Studies show that people with mental health problems get better and many recover completely. There are more treatments, services and community support systems than ever before, and they work. More information

WE NEED A RANGE OF SERVICES

People need to receive the most appropriate care, be served in their own communities, and not be referred to more intensive—and more costly—care than required. More information

THERE ARE GAPS ACROSS THE STATE

While much progress has been made in the past few years, most areas of the state do not have the range of services needed to meet the need. As a result, people travel long distances or receive an inappropriate level of care. More information

TREATMENT IS COST EFFECTIVE

The right care at the right time reduces ER visits and hospitalizations, job loss, involvement in the criminal justice system or premature death. More information
