Raffles

Raffle definition

A raffle is a game in which a participant buys a ticket or other certificate of participation in an event where the prize determination is based on a method of random selection, and all entries have an equal chance of selection.

The raffle ticket must include the location, date, and time of the selection of the winning entries. See example on page 108.

Is it Gambling?

There are three primary factors used in determining whether your activity is gambling and must conform to the raffle requirements.

1. Consideration (payment) required.

Allowed: The only legal form of consideration (payment) for a chance to participate in a raffle is payment by cash, check, or debit card. The organization must reimburse the gambling account for dishonored payments.

Not allowed:

- Credit cards.
- Charging an entrance fee to gain access to where tickets are being distributed.
- Requiring a donation or implying a "suggested donation."
- Requiring the purchase of a good or service in order to enter the drawing.

2. Chance involved in random selection of the winner.

3. Prize (something of value) awarded.

Chance drawings

State law allows chance drawings that do not require consideration if:

- the participant is not required to purchase a ticket for a drawing in order to win a prize; and
- the participant must be allowed to enter the drawing without any consideration for a chance to win a prize.

A chance drawing may not:

- imply that a participant must pay a donation for the chance to win a prize (for example, "Suggested Donation $5"); or
- coerce a participant to pay a donation for the chance to win a prize.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. May our organization give a free meal to everyone who buys one of our $50 raffle tickets?

A. No. Raffle tickets may not entitle the buyer to anything but the raffle, with the following exceptions:

1. Fishing/hunting contests may be held in combination with a raffle, but the amount for the contest and the raffle must be separately stated on the ticket. The fishing/hunting contest prizes and expenses may not be paid for with gambling money.
2. For a button raffle, buttons may be given out if the organization's cost is less than $5, and the buttons are used as certificates of participation in a raffle.
3. Annual membership raffle. (See "Specialized raffles" section for more information.)

Q. We are sponsoring a golf tournament. Participants are awarded prizes based on their scores. The lowest three scores win a prize. Is this activity considered gambling?

A. No. As long as the outcome is based exclusively on skill, then the activity is not gambling.

Vendor Must Print Raffle Tickets

Raffle tickets must be obtained from a vendor, along with an invoice that shows the quantity of tickets printed, the sequential numbers used, and the price printed on the tickets.

Q. A member of our club can print raffle tickets on her home computer. May we purchase our raffle tickets from her?

A. Yes. A vendor may be an individual operating out of their home or office, or a vendor may be a traditional printing business. Be sure that the organization receives an invoice or documentation—even if the tickets are provided free of charge—that shows who printed the tickets, the quantity of tickets purchased, the range of the sequential numbers used, and the selling price printed on the ticket.

Q. May we purchase raffle tickets in bulk?

A. Yes. Organizations may purchase sequentially numbered raffle tickets in bulk. Tickets purchased in bulk may be used for more than one raffle of the same type that occur during the same month. The raffle tickets must have a detachable section, with both parts sequentially numbered, starting with number "1" and continuing through the number of tickets purchased. This will make it easier to track inventory on your LG820 Raffle Inventory and Sales Log.

Certificates of Participation

Certificates of participation may be used in lieu of a traditional raffle ticket when the selection method does not use a raffle ticket stub.

Use the following guidelines when using certificates of participation in your raffle:

- All entries have an equal chance of selection.
- The certificate of participation must include the location, date, and time of the selection of the winning entries.
- The method of selection cannot be manipulated or based on the outcome of an event not controlled by the organization.
- One certificate could include multiple entries in the raffle.

A common example is the duck race. Plastic ducks are numbered, and the certificates of participation have corresponding numbers on them. Typically, the ducks are dropped in a river and the first duck to reach a destination downstream is the winner. Other numbered items could be used with certificates of participation—like ping pong balls, etc., but all entries must be of equal shape, size, and weight.

- All other raffle requirements must be followed.

To ensure the method of selection meets all raffle requirements, contact the Gambling Control Board at 651-539-1900.

Advertising on Raffle Tickets

If an organization sells advertising on a raffle ticket, the money must be deposited into the gambling account and reported as other income on the LG100A.

Conducting a Raffle
For information on who may and may not participate in lawful gambling, see Chapter 3, page 20.
House Rules for Raffle Required
House rules must be posted where raffle winners are selected and must include: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. the organization's name, license, and permit number; 2. the problem gambling helpline number (1-800-333-HOPE); 3. the method and policy of selecting or determining winners; 4. the percentage split for share the pot raffles; 5. a statement that the winner need not be present; 6. the policy on accepting checks and debit cards; 7. a statement that the purchase of only one ticket is required to enter the raffle; 8. an explanation of multiple pricing levels, if any; 9. a statement that persons under 18 may not purchase a raffle ticket or win a prize; and 10. if wine, beer, or intoxicating liquors are awarded, that the winner must be age 21 or older to win, as required by Minn. Statutes, Section 340A.707.
Required Raffle Forms
Use the LG820 Raffle Inventory and Sales Log to track all raffle tickets. An organization is required to account for all tickets printed for a raffle. The value of unaccounted for tickets must be included in the raffle gross receipts reported on the LG100A, Lawful Gambling Receipts and Expenses by Site.
Selling the Tickets or Certificates of Participation
No sales on the internet	REMINDER: Lawful gambling may not be conducted on the internet, including the sale of raffle tickets. However, you may advertise your raffle on the internet.
May not be free of charge	A ticket must be sold for the price printed on the ticket and may not be provided free of charge or for any other consideration, such as a donation of a food item.
Cash, check, or debit card only	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cash, checks, or debit cards may be accepted for the sale of raffle tickets. Raffles are the only form of lawful gambling where personal checks and debit cards may be accepted. Traveler's checks, cashier's checks, and money orders are also acceptable. • Credit cards may not be accepted. Credit may not be extended to a player.
Bounced payments	For "bounced" payments, try to contact the individual for proper payment. Otherwise, an organization must reimburse the gambling account from a source of nongambling funds for any dishonored payments. The ticket stub or the item used in the selection method from the raffle may not be pulled. However, an organization may include in the house rules that raffle prizes will not be awarded until a check or debit card payment clears the bank.
Sellers Must Return Stubs and Unsold Tickets
Before the drawing, each person who sells tickets must return: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • all unsold tickets or certificates; • when raffle tickets are used, the stubs for all tickets sold; and • all money for tickets sold. Organizations must account for all unsold raffle tickets. Any missing raffle tickets are considered sold and must be included in gross receipts.

No Sales After First Winner Determined; No Early Birds

No tickets may be sold after the first winner is determined.

No "early bird" raffles are allowed where a specific prize(s) is awarded to ticket holders that purchased their tickets by a certain date.

Purchase One Ticket for Entry Into Raffle; Equal Chance to Win

A person is not required to:

- purchase more than one ticket; or
- pay for anything other than the ticket. Exception—refer to the button raffle, fishing/hunting contest, and membership raffle sections in this chapter.

Each entry in the raffle must constitute an equal chance to win.

Age Restrictions

- Persons under 18 may sell raffle tickets.
- Persons under 18 may not purchase raffle tickets or win a raffle prize.
- If wine, beer, or intoxicating liquors are awarded, the winner must be age 21 or older to win, as required by Minnesota Statutes, Section 340A.707.

For Raffle Drawings, Use of Receptacle Required

When using raffle tickets:

- Before drawing, place the stub or detachable section of each ticket sold into a receptacle (container) from which the winning tickets are drawn. The receptacle can be purchased from any source.
- The receptacle must be designed so each winning ticket placed in it has an equal chance to be drawn.

Electronic Raffle Selection Systems Allowed

Electronic raffle selection systems are allowed. Electronic raffle systems:

- must be approved by the Gambling Control Board;
- must be purchased from a licensed distributor;
- must use a random number generator to select winning raffle numbers; and
- includes attendant-operated raffle sales devices.

Winners Determined on Raffle Date

All raffle winners must be determined at the time, date, and location indicated on the raffle ticket (unless a different date is approved by the director of the Gambling Control Board).

The raffle drawing must be held at a permitted premises. See also Off-Site Application section in the Premises Permits & Leases chapter.

Prizes listed on the raffle ticket or the list of prizes made available to players when tickets were sold do not have to be displayed at the time raffle winners are selected.

Any prizes donated to the organization after the tickets or prize list has been printed must be displayed at the raffle drawing.

Attendance not required. A person does not need to be present at a raffle to be eligible to win a prize.

The organization is responsible for ensuring that a winner receives their prize.

Deposit Information; Reporting on LG100A

Deposit and record the net receipts, or secure them until they can be deposited. Deposit the gambling receipts into the gambling account within four business days of the date of the raffle.

On the deposit slip, list the following information:

1. premises permit number (for off-site permits use site #999);
2. date of the deposit;
3. date of the raffle;
4. deposit amount from the sale of raffle tickets or certificates; and
5. deposit amount for any income received from advertising in conjunction with the raffle.

Two kinds of deposits

1. If raffle gross receipts are deposited in a month prior to the month of the raffle date, those deposits are reported as "Receipts deposited from games in play that are not included on an LG100A" on the LG100F, Line 14.

The raffle's gross receipts, prizes, and net receipts are reported on the LG100A for the month in which the drawing was held.

2. If an organization sells all of the tickets or certificates and awards the prizes at one time (in a single day), any "money" prizes may be awarded in the form of cash, which means the bank deposit will be less than the gross receipts (sales).
 - If all raffle prizes were cash, then the deposit should equal the net receipts.
 - If a combination of cash and merchandise prizes were awarded, then the deposit will be the total gross receipts less cash prizes paid.

Make a notation on the deposit slip for the amount awarded as cash prizes.

If a fund loss is discovered:

1. Notify local law enforcement within five days of discovering the loss (within 24 hours if the game was played in a dispensing device), and notify the Gambling Control Board. Fund losses not reported will not be considered by the Board for profit carryover adjustment.
2. Within 60 days, provide the Gambling Control Board with documentation of reimbursement or a request for a profit carryover adjustment due to a fund loss. This documentation must be provided to the Board within 60 days or the fund loss request will not be considered by the Board. Use form LG250 Fund Loss Request (Profit Carryover Adjustment).

Refer to the Internal Operations and Oversight chapter, Fund Loss section.

If tickets or certificates are lost due to a disaster such as fire, flood, blizzard, tornado, or other catastrophic event, immediately contact the Department of Revenue at 651-297-1772 for instructions on how to handle the fund loss.

Cancelling a Raffle

Approval required

To cancel a raffle, an organization must request approval in writing prior to the drawing date from the Board's director at:

Minnesota Gambling Control Board
Suite 300 South
1711 West County Road B
Roseville, MN 55113

The request must include the reason the raffle is cancelled.

After receiving approval to cancel a raffle, all money must be returned to persons who purchased a raffle ticket. If a person cannot be located within 30 days after reasonable attempts via mail and telephone, the receipts are deposited and reported on the LG100A as raffle gross receipts.

Documentation must be kept with raffle records showing the attempts made to reach all persons who purchased a raffle ticket, as a person is entitled to claim a refund for up to one year from the date of the canceled raffle.

Changing a Raffle Date

Approval required

To change a raffle drawing date, an organization must request approval in writing from the director of the Gambling Control Board. For a licensed organization, the request must be signed by the organization's chief executive officer (CEO) or gambling manager. (For an exempt organization, the request must be signed by the CEO and the local unit of government.)

The director will approve a drawing date change if:

1. weather caused postponement of the event on the day the drawing was to be held;
2. not enough tickets or certificates were sold to cover the cost of the prizes; or
3. there were other circumstances beyond an organization's control.

The Board's director will not approve a drawing date change because the desired level of profit was not obtained.

To obtain approval, send a letter stating the reasons why the raffle date needs to be changed. Send the letter to:

Minnesota Gambling Control Board
Suite 300 South
1711 West County Road B
Roseville, MN 55113

If a raffle date change is approved, an organization must publicize that fact to purchasers and document the approved date change in the monthly meeting minutes.

Raffle with Gross Receipts of $60 or Less

An organization may conduct a raffle where:

1. all raffle tickets are sold only during the raffle activity;
2. the players are present for the drawing; and
3. the organization does not require the player to complete the raffle ticket stub information.

If this type of raffle is conducted, be sure that the raffle house rules address whether or not the ticket stub information must be completed. Note that theatre tickets are not allowed. Raffle tickets must still be printed/used.

- Raffle winners will be determined by selecting ticket stubs from a container.
- When a raffle ticket stub is drawn that contains no winner information, the organization must announce the ticket number. The player must present the matching numbered raffle ticket before the prize is awarded.
- If a player must leave before the drawing, the player must give the ticket stub with contact information to another player or to the person conducting the drawing. This will ensure that the player can be contacted if their ticket number is drawn.

If the gross receipts from the raffle will be $60 or less, an organization has up to 30 days after the prize is received by the organization to pay for the merchandise prizes.

Combination Raffles

Combining a raffle with the purchase of another item on the same ticket is not allowed with the exception of a button raffle, a membership event raffle, or a raffle conducted in conjunction with a fishing or hunting contest.

Combination Raffle—Button Raffle

A button raffle may be conducted using the format outlined below for the certificate of participation. All statutes and rules pertaining to raffles apply to a button raffle.

The organization must account for all sold and unsold buttons. Unsold buttons may be discarded, BUT an organization must keep all corresponding tickets from the unsold buttons.

Continuation Raffle

A "continuation raffle" allows an organization to conduct raffles where the winner(s) advance to another raffle drawing until the final winners are determined.

- Ticket sales must stop after the initial drawing.
- There is no additional cost for players beyond the initial ticket cost.
- The raffle must be concluded within 12 months.

For example, raffle drawings are held on four consecutive Sunday nights:

- On July 12, the organization conducts the first round drawing. Thirty $20 winners are drawn who also then advance to the next round.
- On July 19, a 2nd round drawing is held with ten $50 winners who then also advance to the next round.
- On July 26, a 3rd round is held with three $100 winners advancing to the final round.
- On August 2, a final round is held at the community festival, with prizes of $100, $500, and $1,000.

Continuation raffle reporting:

- Report gross receipts and all prizes to be awarded for the raffle ($3,000) in the month of the initial drawing (July).
- Report all gross receipts and prizes on the LG100A for the site where the initial drawing was held.
- The value of prizes reported, but not yet awarded by the end of July ($1,600) are entered on the July LG100F Lawful Gambling Fund Reconciliation form, Line 17.
- In August, when the final round prizes are awarded, the $1,600 reconciling item is removed.
