

2023 Dakota and Ojibwe Language Competitive Grant Application

Website: <http://mn.gov/indianaffairs>

Grant Overview

Mission: Dakota and Ojibwe are spoken and valued as vibrant, living, and thriving languages throughout Minnesota.

Vision: To protect and empower our children, parents, and elders in the continuing revitalization of our language, thus maintaining Tribal sovereignty.

Miigwech/Pidamaya for the important work that you do to ensure the continuance of our languages. We are excited that you are applying for a Dakota and Ojibwe Language Competitive Grant. These funds were appropriated by the state legislature to the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council through the 2021 Minnesota Session Laws, 92nd Legislature, Special Session, Chapter 1, Article 4, Sec. 2, Subdivision 9, to provide grants to preserve the Dakota and Ojibwe Indian languages through support of projects and services and to support educational programs in Dakota and Ojibwe languages.

This Dakota and Ojibwe Language Competitive Grant will fund a one-year Dakota or Ojibwe Language Revitalization project. The project will start in the fall of 2022 and require an end date of June 30, 2023. Requested funding shall supplement (increase the level of services) and not supplant (take the place of) state, local, and other funds. Those who receive this grant are responsible for spending Arts and Cultural Heritage fund dollars in a way that is consistent with the grant agreement signed between the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council (the State) and the grantee. Agencies or organizations receiving Legacy Fund dollars are responsible for spending the money efficiently and effectively. Money may not be spent on activities unless they are directly related to and necessary for the project purpose that will be outlined in the grant agreement.

Funding Availability

The amount of available grant dollars is $320,000. The maximum total that a grantee can apply for is $100,000. Any application asking for more than the maximum total will not be considered. MIAC is anticipating to fund anywhere between four to seven projects with the funds remaining.

Funding will be allocated through a competitive process with review by a committee representing content and community specialists with knowledge. We expect to announce selected grantees on October 3rd, 2022. If selected, you may only incur eligible expenditures when the grant contract agreement is fully executed and the grant has reached its effective date.

Agency Background

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council was established in 1963 to act as a liaison between the State of Minnesota and the 11 federally recognized Tribal Nations, with the mission of protecting the sovereignty of these Nations and ensuring the well-being of American Indian citizens throughout the State of Minnesota.

On the November 2008 ballot, the citizens of Minnesota voted to amend the Minnesota Constitution to increase the sales tax by 3/8 of one percent until the year 2034. Of this new tax revenue, 19.75% will be spent on the preservation of the arts and cultural heritage of Minnesota. During the 2009 legislative session, the State Legislature appropriated $550,000 in 2010 and $700,000 in 2011 to the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council to be used to, "preserve Dakota and Ojibwe Indian languages and to foster educational programs in Dakota and Ojibwe languages.” Each Legislative Session, the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council works to educate the State Legislature about the importance of language revitalization and requests additional funding to continue the Dakota and Ojibwe language revitalization grant program.

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council recognizes that without timely intervention, the use of Dakota and Ojibwe languages – like Indigenous languages throughout the globe –will decline to a point beyond recovery. Indigenous languages, such as Dakota and Ojibwe, have meaning that is much deeper than just communication. Language is inseparable from American Indian identity. Languages express, reflect, and maintain the connections people have to one another and to the world. They are shaped over millennia by communal experience. They shape how a people come to know who they are, where they came from, where they live, what is true, and how to relate to the world physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually.

As languages are inherently inseparable from individual and communal identity, they are difficult to eradicate from a culture. Severing the people from their lands, denying them sustenance, and forcing them into English-only boarding schools was not successful in destroying these languages. For more than 100 years, such assaults were aggressively pursued as the official policy of federal and state governments in the United States in attempt to eradicate the languages, and yet the languages of the Dakota and Ojibwe people survive. The survival of Dakota and Ojibwe languages, however, remains threatened. Indigenous language revitalization now requires heroic measures for these languages to not only survive, but to thrive and to live on for future generations.

Priorities

It is the policy of the State of Minnesota to ensure fairness, precision, equity and consistency in competitive grant awards. This includes implementing diversity and inclusion in grant-making.

Policy 08-02 establishes the expectation that grant programs intentionally identify how the grant serves diverse populations, especially populations experiencing inequities and/or disparities.

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council invites applications for funding in the following Programming Project Areas:

- Creating content-based, culturally appropriate, authentic curriculum for Dakota or Ojibwe Language
- Dakota and Ojibwe language application for iPhone, Android, tablets and other smart devices
- Language symposia
- Language immersion camps
- Language bowls and tables
- Traditional and cultural activities using language instruction
- Designing language proficiency assessments
- Dakota and/or Ojibwe language event(s)
- Dakota and/or Ojibwe Programming/projects
- Other Dakota and/or Ojibwe language revitalization projects

In addition to this list, the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council has provided examples below and invites applications in the following areas.

Immersion Projects - In immersion settings, language is not a subject, but a medium in which all instruction takes place. Successful language immersion has resulted from a specific pedagogy that features cultural identity and tradition as an asset. Immersion gives students the opportunity to engage in language learning for extended periods of time in which only the target language is spoken. Immersion offers the possibility that students will not only learn the words of a language but will gain the world view that a language embodies.

Immersion Curriculum Development- There is a need for commercial immersion curricula to be made available in Minnesota. Immersion curricula development requires a systematic, strategic approach to develop high quality resources for addressing academic standards and overcome the barriers to involving fluent first speakers. Immersion curricula development should involve teachers and available elders with noted degrees of oral proficiency, to create resources for the language. The development of resources should have a significant impact on language immersion education.

Language Proficiency Assessments – Assessments created consist of Ojibwe and Dakota content and context. Assessment should focus on development and proficiency of oral language as well as reading and writing skills in the Dakota or Ojibwe language. Project should involve groups of teachers, available elders or individuals with noted degrees of oral proficiency to contribute to the design of assessment of proficiency in Dakota or Ojibwe language.

Please note, these are meant to be examples of projects and are not an exhaustive list of acceptable projects.

Ideally, projects will demonstrate a long-term vision but use short term strategies to ensure successful completion of the one-year project.
