AT A GLANCE

- The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council (“MIAC” or “Council”) established under MN Stat. 3.922 serves as a liaison between the state enterprise and the eleven Tribal Nations that share geography.
- The Council board is comprised of elected Tribal Leaders, the Governor’s Office, members of the State Legislature, and State Agency Commissioners.
- The Council oversees and provides support for a six-member Urban Indian Advisory Board (“UIAB”) that advises the Council on issues specific to the urban American Indian communities in Minneapolis, St. Paul, Bemidji, and Duluth.
- According to the 2020 Census there are approximately 69,000 American Indians in Minnesota residing both on and off reservation.
- MIAC has ten (10) full-time staff and two offices located in St. Paul and Bemidji.

PURPOSE

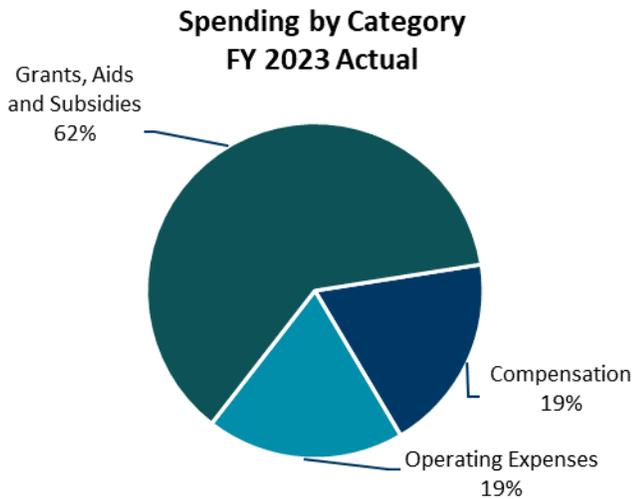

The mission of Minnesota Indian Affairs Council – To protect the sovereignty of the eleven Minnesota tribes and ensure the well-being of all American Indian citizens throughout the state of Minnesota.

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council’s vision is - To strive for social, economic, and political justice for all American Indian people living in Minnesota, while embracing our traditional, cultural, and spiritual values.

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council mission, vision, and duties align and contribute to advancing the One Minnesota Plan in all areas with a special emphasis in reducing Native American disparities through partnerships and collaborations with Tribal Nation partners and the Urban Indian Community.

In the “Strategies” section of this profile, MIAC highlights the tactics employed to achieve both the mission and vision of the agency while contributing to the One Minnesota Plan. MIAC is committed to ending discrimination and reducing social disparities within Minnesota and Indian Country. This commitment extends to areas identified by the Governor’s One Minnesota Plan including Children and Families, Educational Opportunities, Housing, Workforce development, Health, Equity and Inclusion, Environment, and Education.

STRATEGIES

The Minnesota Indian Affairs Council employs the following strategies to meet both the MIAC mission statement and the One Minnesota Plan:

- Convene quarterly board meetings attended by elected Tribal Leaders (executive board), State Agency Commissioners, State of Minnesota elected and appointed officials, key agency program staff, and members of the public.
- Analyze and offer recommendations to Tribal Elected Leaders, members of the Legislature, and the Governor on programs, proposals, and projects of importance to Tribal Nations and non-Tribal Indian organizations.
- Establish, develop, and maintain community relationships by engaging in community activities.
- Educate state agencies, local governments, and the public on issues important to Tribal Nations and Native American population.
- Educate state agencies and the public on “Why Treaties Matter” exhibit and how this connects to state work and projects.
- Offer technical support to various state task forces engaging in the work that would have tribal implications.
- Assist members of the legislature on language revision, review, and recommendation for proposed legislation that could have tribal implications.
- Create, develop, and maintain a Native American profile for purposes of guiding, directing, and recommending proposed policy and legislation.
- Work with state agencies to review current or future delivery of services to Tribal Nations and Native American population.

- Assist and collaborate with state agencies in establishing advisory councils, boards, and committees that deliver services to Tribal Nations in Minnesota.
- Promote, develop, and advance the revitalization and preservation of the Dakota and Ojibwe Languages through the Language Grants department supported by the Legacy Amendment.
- Direct and regulate repatriation and burial recovery efforts of Native American remains and artifacts through a respectful and culturally competent manner.
- Collaborate with state agencies, the Army Corp of Engineers, state and local governments, Tribal Historic Preservations Officers, and elected Tribal Officials to ensure repatriation efforts remain in compliance with MN Stat. 307.08 (The Private Cemeteries Act), MN Stat. 138.31-42 (The Field Archeology Act), and the federal Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act.
- Coordinate with state agency Tribal Liaisons to offer technical assistance and coordination under MN Stat. 10.65 – Government to Government Relationship with Tribal Governments.
- Partner with Tribal Nations and state agencies to plan and facilitate the Tribal-State Relations Training.
- Offer technical assistance in establishing means of delivery of services to Tribal Nations and the urban Native American community.
- Plan, support, and coordinate the Annual Tribal Nation Summit for Elected Tribal Leaders, Legislative members, and the Governor.

In 2024, the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council has undergone significant agency growth to better meet the needs of the Tribal Nations and Native American population. This growth includes the addition of two Cultural Resource (“CR”) managers, a Communications Manager, and a Legislative Director. From FY2023 to FY2024, the Cultural Resource department has seen a sixty-two percent (62%) increase in requests for review from both state agencies and private landowners. The addition of the two CR managers has boosted the capacity and efficacy of MIAC response to these requests. The additional CR managers have also established, developed, and maintained amicable relationships with Tribal partners, state agencies, Office of State Archeology (OSA), Hamline university, and many other entities.

The duty of the Legislative Director ensures the much needed and revered technical assistance for the members of the legislature is ready and available based on priorities set by Tribal Nations and Urban Indian Organizations. The Communications Manager ensures timely correspondence with all our partners including within the state enterprise, the eleven sovereign Tribal Nations, the Urban Indian community, and the public.

Representation is a priority for the One Minnesota Plan and MIAC prioritizes the voices of Tribal Governments within the legislative process and offers analysis of outcomes that will have tribal implications. In addition to the items listed above, the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council continues to fulfill its statutory duties in accordance with MN Stat. 3.922. The MIAC coordination and technical assistance in areas of Health, Commerce, Education, Housing, Economic Development, Cannabis Management, Human Services, Corrections, Transportation, and Veteran Affairs has led to equitable outcomes for all of Minnesota.
