PURPOSE

The Office of Ombudsman for Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities (OMHDD) serves to promote the highest attainable standards for treatment, competence, efficiency, and justice for persons receiving services for mental illness (MI), developmental disabilities (DD), substance use disorder (SUD), and emotional disturbance (ED). These include services that are licensed, certified, or registered by the Departments of Health, Human Services, and Education as well as local school districts, county social service agencies, and sober homes.

OMHDD works to resolve client complaints and concerns regarding services, treatment, and rights-related issues. OMHDD reviews serious injury and death reports involving clients, monitors University of Minnesota clinical drug trials on psychiatric medication, and provides civil commitment and other training statewide.

STRATEGIES

OMHDD staff work to address individual client needs and identify systemic issues in all areas of the MI, DD, SUD, and ED service systems. OMHDD reviews serious injury and death reports to detect any concerns or trends, issue recommendations to improve the quality of services delivered, and to ensure clients receive timely access to needed medical care. OMHDD also uses this data to produce topical medical alerts which focus on education, best practices, and prevention of issues that negatively impact client safety. The alerts are shared broadly with service providers and interested persons statewide.

Regional staff serve distinct geographic regions across the state to provide services equitably across Minnesota. This helps build relationships with clients and stakeholders, foster community, and provide services and resources with expertise specific to the region in which the client is present. Regional staff receive complaints and monitor client cases to address individual client concerns and to identify systemic issues. OMHDD staff advocate for individual and systemic solutions, and provide service providers, lead agencies, and other stakeholders recommendations to improve service quality and protect clients' rights. OMHDD also participates in local and statewide work groups and committees covering a wide variety of topics related to client services, rights, choice, and quality of care.

OMHDD monitors the quality of services via review of multiple agencies, facilities, and programs. OMHDD acts as an intermediary between Minnesota residents and state government funded or provided service delivery systems. When practices, policies, and procedures do not make sense to clients, are unfair, or errors have been made, OMHDD staff can help bring the two sides together to obtain the best result for the clients. OMHDD provides training to providers, families, law enforcement, legal, medical, local, county, and state staff to improve services and increase understanding of service delivery systems, laws, and best practices.

OMHDD operates the state Civil Commitment Training and Resource Center, providing civil commitment education to stakeholders to reduce the number of inappropriate commitments, save valuable resources, and get clients to the level of service they require in the least restrictive and most integrated environments.
