AT A GLANCE

- Minnesota has 1,309,503 children with 32,341 children alleged victims of maltreatment.
- Minnesota ranks 5th in the US for overall child well-being (2024 KIDS COUNT Data Book).
- African American children and children who identified as Hispanic, of any race, were both two times more likely than white children to be in out-of-home care.
- Children who identify as two or more races were seven times more likely to be in out-of-home care, based on Minnesota population data from the 2020 U.S. census estimates.
- A 5-year trend (2017-2021) in out-of-home care showed small reductions in the rates of African American, Hispanic, and kids of two or more races being placed in out-of-home care. Moreover, little has been effective in reducing the disproportionality between white children and every other racial or ethnic population.

PURPOSE

The Office of Ombudsperson for Families (OBFF) is an independent state agency whose goals are to: (1) reduce racial and ethnic disparities and disproportionality in Minnesota’s child welfare system; (2) improve outcomes for children and families involved in child protection cases; (3) ensure all laws governing the protection of children and families are implemented in a culturally and linguistically competent manner; and (4) ensure adherence to laws protecting children and families in decision-making processes. We work to resolve complaints from families who have been negatively impacted by child welfare social service agencies.

Our mission is to ensure that children and families are protected by law in all child placement proceedings conducted by public and private agencies and organizations.

STRATEGIES

The OBFF works in these four strategic areas:

1. Taking Complaints – Complaints include a person making a specific claim against a county child welfare agency, or its agent; a public or private child placing agency, or its agent; the courts; the Guardian Ad Litem Program; and others. A person may call to complain about current laws, policies, and practices. Specific examples of types of complaints include but are not limited to the following: Children not placed with their families or relatives; relatives and families not being considered for permanency placement; transportation limitations; untimely or unavailable treatment; inadequate housing; confusion from the court process/system; unhelpful public entities (e.g., county child protection, public defender office); and lack of cultural sensitivity.
2. Investigation – The Ombudspersons make recommendations on cases regarding non-compliance with state or federal laws and policies. These cases include, but are not limited to possible bias, discrimination, lack of culturally appropriate services, and inadequate linguistic and cultural sensitivity.
3. Monitoring – (a) Monitor agency compliance with all laws governing child protection and placement that impact children of color; (b) document and monitor court activities in order to heighten awareness of diverse belief systems and family relationships; (c) ensure experts from the appropriate community of color are used as court advocates and are consulted in placement decisions that involve children of color; (d) ensure Guardians ad Litem and other individuals from communities of color are used in court proceedings to advocate on behalf of children of color; and (e) provide training programs for bilingual workers.
4. Public Policy Development – The Ombudspersons work to effect policy changes when current policies do not reflect best practices. Examples of some of the initiatives on which the Ombudspersons have worked include the Minnesota Supreme Court Children’s Justice Initiative (CJI); Minnesota Department of Human Services Children’s Justice Act (CJA) Task Force; Minnesota Child Welfare Training System (MNCWTS); Ramsey County Citizen Advisory Panel; and Hennepin County Child Protection Task Force. These initiatives and task forces have had an ongoing and positive impact on reducing racial disparities and disproportionality in child welfare; and improving outcomes for children and their families involved in child protection cases.

As a recommendation under Governor Walz's and Lieutenant Governor Flanagan's One Minnesota Plan, the Department of Children, Youth, and Families (DCYF) was created. Although Minnesota is ranked as one of the top states to live, work, and raise children, that has not been true for many of our families. The creation of DCYF allows us to reimagine Minnesota's government structure by prioritizing funding that will provide holistic support for children, youth, and families of every race, religion, and zip code and allow all an equal opportunity to succeed. Investing in our state's future is fundamental because our children are our future. The Office of Ombudsperson for Families (OBFF) supports this initiative and has been actively involved in advancing its creation. Below are examples of the OBFF's One Minnesota Plan successful collaborations:

Minnesota African American Family Preservation and Child Welfare Disproportionality Act Overview

The Minnesota African American Family Preservation and Child Welfare Disproportionality Act (the Act) passed. As a result, these key measures are included:

1. Active Efforts: There will be an emphasis on continuous efforts to preserve a child's family and prevent out-of-home placement. This includes consistent engagement with the family in case planning and selecting services and providers. Additionally, the court is required to verify that the local agency has utilized these active efforts.
2. Safety Plan Requirements: A safety plan must be established with the family before a court petition is filed to place a child in out-of-home care. Exceptions to this requirement will apply in cases involving allegations of sexual abuse, egregious harm, non-compliance with the safety plan by the parent, parental abandonment, or chronic substance abuse that impairs the parent's ability to care for the child.
3. The Act aligns with Governor Walz's One Minnesota initiative, which aims to ensure that children and families of every race, ethnicity, and culture have equitable opportunities for success while prioritizing the safety and well-being of children within their homes and communities.

Collaboration with the Office of Ombudsperson for Foster Youth and the OBFF

The OBFF provided recommendations to the Legislative Task Force on Child Protection about legislation for direct access to the Social Services Information System (SSIS), which contains data utilized in child protection case management. This access would facilitate prompt reviews of documents related to SSIS Child/ren in Need of Protection and/or Services (CHIPS) cases, significantly reducing the time required to obtain these case files from the respective counties. Enhanced access will empower ombudspersons to perform their duties more effectively and better serve the communities involved. Furthermore, under the OBFF's enabling legislation, there is a commitment to uphold the integrity of the data within the SSIS CHIPS files, adhering to the mandates of Minnesota Data Practices (Chapter 13).

Ongoing Engagement with the Children's Justice Act Task Force

The OBFF has actively participated in the Children's Justice Act (CJA) Task Force for over 20 years. In collaboration with the Task Force, the OBFF will contribute to three major projects planned for 2024-2027, which include:

1. Training Initiatives: Continued training for multi-disciplinary child protection team (MDT) members in basic forensic interviewing skills through CornerHouse and First Witness, alongside developing advanced, culturally responsive training options for MDT members statewide.
2. Screening Tools: The establishment of a child and youth-centered commercial sexual exploitation (CSE) and trafficking (both sex and labor) identification tool for MDT members across Minnesota.
3. Legal Representation Enhancement: Researching successful national programs aimed at attracting attorneys and other legal professionals to accept CHIPS cases, as well as creating innovative methods to provide accessible court-appointed representation for all participants in CHIPS hearings.

This report highlights the ongoing efforts to improve child welfare practices and ensure equitable treatment for all families in Minnesota.
