

The Manager's Income Protection Plan Overview

The Manager's Income Protection Plan (IPP) is a combined life insurance and disability benefit available to managerial level employees.

The Income Protection Plan offers two plans and two levels of coverage that employees can choose from, Plan A or Plan B. Within each plan, employees can choose an elimination period for the disability coverage. The elimination period is the period of time you must be totally disabled before benefits become payable.

Manager's IPP Plan A provides an employer paid life insurance benefit equal to one and a half (1 ½) times annual salary, plus employer paid disability coverage with an elimination period of 150 days. Under this plan, employees also have the option of buying disability coverage with decreased elimination periods.

Manager's IPP Plan B provides an employer paid life insurance benefit equal to two (2) times annual salary, with no employer paid disability coverage. Employees in this plan may choose to purchase disability coverage with thirty (30), sixty (60), ninety (90), one hundred twenty (120) or one hundred fifty (150) day elimination periods.

The disability benefit after the elimination period is sixty (60) percent of a manager's salary to a maximum of $7,000 per month under both Plan A and Plan B.

The premium you pay for your Income Protection Plan varies depending on the plan and elimination period you choose, and your monthly salary. You may calculate the premiums using the IPP Premium Calculation Worksheet found at: <https://mn.gov/mmb-stat/documents/segip/life/mgrs-ipp-wrksh.pdf>.

Once you are enrolled in the Income Protection Plan, you may be able to make changes your plan at any time during the year or only at Open Enrollment. Certain changes may require evidence of good health. If evidence is required, you will be contacted directly by the insurance carrier to supply the information.
