ACCOUNTING DIRECTOR

KIND OF WORK

Highly responsible administrative work in directing a fiscal management program.

NATURE AND PURPOSE

An employee in this class is responsible for directing a large and complex fiscal management program in a large state department, agency, or institution. In this capacity, employees are responsible for providing technical and supervisory financial support to carry out policies and programs established by the department head. Accounting Directors serve as the chief liaison to activity managers to ensure coordination of their activities in planning with the accounting division. A close working relationship is also maintained with the Finance Agency controller to ensure compliance with budgetary and financial planning requirements of the Department of Finance. Considerable latitude is granted employees in this class for developing, implementing, and administering financial methods and procedures. Accounting Directors typically report to a high level department manager with work reviewed through periodic conferences and reports.
