CORRECTIONS JUVENILE PROGRAM DIRECTOR

KIND OF WORK

Highly responsible administrative work, directing the entire non-educational treatment component in a state juvenile correctional facility.

NATURE AND PURPOSE

Employees in this class are responsible for supervision of cottage supervisors (Correctional Supervisors or Correctional Counselor 4’s), rehabilitation therapists, institutional clergy and other professional level treatment staff. The primary purpose of this classification is to supervise and coordinate the group living programs of the cottage units and to direct and implement diagnostic and rehabilitation programs for students within the institution. The work is performed under the supervision and direction of the Superintendent, but the employee is given wide latitude for individual discretion and execution of policies involving treatment and care of the students. This employee is responsible for studying present group living and treatment programs and for planning and promoting new, revised or additional programs. The employee works primarily with staff personnel rather than with the students directly. This class is differentiated from a Correctional Institution Program Director in that employees in this class work in a juvenile, minimum security facility, whereas a Correctional Institution Program Director works in an adult, medium security facility and with somewhat more diverse programs. Both, however, report directly to the Superintendent and involve high level administrative responsibility and authority.
