3. The Council staff added details to the Five-Year Plan and resubmitted on July 5, 2022. Then the federal government notified all Councils that they must add an emerging objective to address any potential natural disasters. So the Council staff have added that objective, will update the funding allocations for grants for FFY 23 and resubmit again.

4. Our Program Performance Reports were submitted for FFY 2020 and FFY 2021, but we have not received any feedback.

6. Class 40 of Partners in Policymaking was selected on July 29, 2022. We received 71 applications and 40 people were selected with a waiting list of several applicants.

7. The Council has created a mobile museum consisting of 15 oversized posters tracing the evolution of history from 1905-2021. The St Louis County Health and Human Services Conference has agreed to host this display on October 12-13, 2022.

9. The Council will be at the State Fair on August 25, 2022 from 9:00 am until 1:00 pm. Please stop by the Education Building. This year’s theme is Disability Pride and we will be giving away Treat People Like People posters and buttons.

The Council then took a break for lunch and reconvened at 12:00 noon.

IX . PROGRAM—FEDERAL COURT ISSUES AND MOVING HOME MINNESOTA

Magistrate Judge Thorson

Dan Reed introduced Judge Thorson as an old friend and colleague before Judge Thorson attended law school. She was an expert in telling your story effectively through audio-visual methods. Now she is an expert in listening to stories and effectively handling legal cases.

US Magistrate Judge Becky R. Thorson was asked to present an overview of all the work that has been completed addressing disability legal issues. Her presentation was entitled, “Reflections on 15 Years of Disability Initiatives with the Federal Bar Association, Robins Kaplan LLP, and the U.S. District Court - District of Minnesota.”
Judge Thorson described the key role of Judge Frank during the past 15 years. The spark for this work began when the Minnesota Federal Bar Association (FBA) Diversity Committee discussed the issues of developmental disabilities at a meeting in 2009. The issues seemed overwhelming because the topic had been ignored and not included in diversity initiatives. The FBA then hosted a seminar about developmental disabilities at luncheon meeting in 2009.

Judge Thorson was previously a partner at Robins Kaplan law firm and led the effort to have an annual seminar beginning in 2019. So far there have been 12 seminars touching upon multiple issues and involving Council members as speakers. People with disabilities have been speakers since 2011.

When Judge Thorson worked at Robins Kaplan she served as the Editor-in-Chief of the Federal Lawyer which is a national publication of the FBA, and it is disseminated to every federal judge and attorneys who belong to the FBA. Copies of both magazines were distributed to the Council members.

One of the best attended events featured the Interact Theater group presenting to the 37th Annual Federal Court Practice group held at the Guthrie Theater in 2011.

Judge Frank has received several awards and honors for his leadership in this area including the Paul Hearne Award presented by the American Bar Association.

Judge Thorson worked with the Continuing Legal Education Center to host several webcasts which reached thousands of attorneys.

Other prominent attorneys became involved including Jim Backstrom, Dakota County Attorney, who is an expert on witness preparation. Tom Nelson, former President of the Minnesota State Bar Association created a presentation about all the things he did not know. Professor Elizabeth Schiltz has been a content expert and provides oversight for the website that the Council hosts.

Finally, disability law will be included in the 2023 Public Outreach Committee’s work. This work will lead to inclusion in the new Justice and Democracy Center announced by former Chief Judge John Tunheim and now supported by the new Chief Judge Patrick Schiltz.

Judge Thorson reminded the members of Mark Twain’s famous statement, “The secret of getting ahead is getting started. The secret of getting started is breaking your complex, overwhelming tasks into small manageable tasks and starting on the first one.”

The Council members thanked Judge Thorson for her outstanding work.

Amy Petersen and Dagny Norenberg (DHS)

At this point the Council members were asked for their ideas. The following suggestions were offered:

1. Transportation is extremely difficult and extremely limited in rural areas. Metro Mobility cannot be the answer (it is an option). Look at ride shares, Uber or Lyft approaches.
2. Advocacy and legal services because there isn’t equitable access to services without more advocacy and legal expertise available in a timely fashion. If a person has to file an appeal, then they have to go up against a DHS judge who has no training on how a person with a disability lives and learns. There is no public defender. Appealing approved waiver funds to get a specific item covered, but it is already approved.

3. What is included under the broad category of technology? With the present staff shortage, we need more adaptive technology in people’s homes. Don’t forget there is the use of technology and the support of technology. An end user may need support to use the technology.

4. Day services and something meaningful to do during the day. There are waiting lists now. Can the person leaving an institutional setting go to the head of the line? Infrastructure needs to be build.

5. Look at the policy that doesn’t allow family members to transport to a medical appointment if the person is on a CDCS waiver.

6. The need for massive amounts of training and certifications in topic areas like autism and ableism. Every team member including case managers need training.

7. The need for everyone to use Plain Language. Letters can be confusing and intimidating; DHS needs to move faster to comply with Plain Language requirements.

8. Currently no modifications can occur until you take possession, but people need modifications before moving in such as grab bars, a ramp or vehicle modifications. The time limit of six months may be too short.

9. The elderly waiver is capped and so how do we level the playing field? What are the gaps in the current waivers? The current time limits of 365 days may also cause problems if there is no ongoing support.

10. With the PCA shortage and workforce crisis we may have too many chariots before the horses. What if there are changes in leadership at the federal and state levels?

11. Who is measuring the number of people who are being re-institutionalized? Petersen said that of the 150 people under Moving Home Minnesota only 2 have been re-institutionalized because of acute healthcare needs.

12. Look at developing new residences with adaptability built in from the beginning so that people can age in place. There are plenty of empty shopping malls that can be converted.

13. Membership fees should cover social programs and community events not just a gym membership.

14. Instead of adapting a washer and dryer, consider paying for laundry fees.

15. Accessibility must address the full range of disabilities. It isn’t a timer. Executive functioning can cover many different areas including living in the moment.

16. DHS should go into colleges and find students in a variety of majors and have them be paid as direct support professionals and build natural supports with people. But this isn’t a requirement for a person to take this student because there is discontinuity with semesters and breaks.
17. If we cannot find PCAs then think about laundry services, car services, food delivery, instant chef, vacuuming, bill paying, internet services, unpacking groceries (ongoing not once) so come up with a flexible itemized list. If you cannot get PCA help, the work still needs to get done so can we pay for the activity to still happen. The CADI waiver allows some services such as PCA and homemaker but if you cannot find one then authorize the funds to get the work done anyway.

18. Invest in learning through subscription services or online learning, to learn new tasks, skills, a trade, keep expanding and growing in new ways.

19. If you are on MAEPD, dental visits are limited and will not pay for certain services. Should there be help provided to find medical providers and oral health care services.

20. Weather-related services. What do people need based upon the weather such as snow removal. Removal of snow at curbs, lawn services, etc.

21. Are there funds for building accessible housing?

At the end of this input session, Amy Petersen stated that she wanted to return to the Council and that the input exceeded her expectations.

The Council members thanked Petersen and Norenberg for their assistance in helping the Council receive federal funds for the Treat People Like People campaign.
