GOALS

1. Have the residents make appointments to see employees in various departments; be on time for the appointments and have appropriate questions ready to ask.
2. Prepare and formulate the newspaper; proofread for possible errors.
3. Proper sentence structure, punctuation, and continuity in forming articles of interest to the residents.
4. Making residents responsible for their own job within the newspaper; become aware of their assignments and anxious to submit satisfactory materials; have news items ready when due.
5. Realization of how much work is put into a community newspaper and the nominal cost to the buyer.
6. To make news interesting to someone else rather than just "self."
7. Become aware of what is happening in the world outside the institution; gain some understanding of other people, their problems and accomplishments.
3. Take pride in a job well done.
9. Gain insight into working together as a group toward a final goal rather than each going his own separate way.
10. To keep the Sunnyside residents more informed with a newspaper they write
