Additionally, the option to purchase additional licenses and related support services was also secured through this professional and technical contract awarded after an open and competitive solicitation.

- NOTE: The following are unlikely to be sufficient single source justifications:
- ◆ Personal or agency preference for a product or vendor
 - ◆ Agency perception that the vendor is the best qualified (this should be determined through a competitive process)
 - ◆ Lack of agency planning resulting in limited time to conduct a competitive procurement
 - ◆ Past or existing relationship with the vendor
 - ◆ Special incentive or deal offered (can be assessed in open and competitive solicitation)
 - ◆ Agency convenience

SEARCH

Minnesota Statute § 16C.02 subdivision 18 states: "Single source" means an acquisition where, after a search, only one supplier is determined to be reasonably available for the required product, service, or construction item.

A search was conducted consisting of: (check all that apply)

- Internet search
- Market research / other vendors contacted
- Public notice given on MMD website
- Other

RESULTS

AFTER THE SEARCH...

- no alternatives were identified
- no alternatives were deemed acceptable because (explain below):

Describe the search from above in detail:

As described above, the initial purchase of software licenses was made through a professional and technical contract awarded after an open and competitive solicitation. Additionally, the option to purchase maintenance and support services at this price was negotiated as a term of the professional and technical contract awarded after an open and competitive solicitation. Commerce received 19 responses to the initial RFP for the professional and technical contract and these proposals included various types of software from a variety of vendors in order to provide some of the functionality described above. Therefore, the search for a reasonably available product or service occurred in the course of this solicitation.

PRICE

Minnesota Statute § 16C.10 subdivision 1 states: The solicitation process described in this chapter is not required when there is clearly and legitimately only a single source for the goods and services and the commissioner has determined that the price has been fairly and reasonably established.

Price has been fairly and reasonably established by:

- Comparison to previous comparable purchase
- Independent estimate
- Market survey
- Comparison to public sector contract pricing
- Discount off published catalog pricing
- Other, explain:

Describe methodology and results (attach any written supporting data, e.g., survey or market analysis):

As described above, the initial purchase of software licenses was made through a professional and technical contract awarded after an open and competitive solicitation. Additionally, the option to purchase maintenance and support services at this price was negotiated as a term of the professional and technical contract awarded after an open and competitive solicitation. Commerce received 19 responses to the initial RFP for the professional and technical contract and these proposals included various types of software from a variety of vendors in order to provide some of the functionality described above. Therefore, the price for these goods and services have been fairly and reasonably established as a part of this open and competitive solicitation.

- this request for an exception to the competitive solicitation process is not the result of inadequate advance planning or for purposes of securing the services of a preferred vendor.
