

PELSB Cultural Competency “Train the Trainer” Workshop

PELSB encourages schools, districts, and educational cooperatives to develop and provide cultural competency training as part of their regular professional development offerings. However, our office recognizes that many schools and districts may not feel fully equipped to offer this type of training.

As a result, PELSB is hosting a “Train the Trainer” workshop as an opportunity for schools, districts, and cooperatives to support their staff in becoming trained facilitators who can deliver cultural competency trainings that meet the requirements to renew a Minnesota teaching license.

Our intention is to have these trained facilitators go on to provide trainings for schools and districts throughout the state. Additionally, the facilitators can also serve as a consultant to schools and districts who are developing their own cultural competency training.

The cost of this “Train the Trainer” workshop is $200. Registration is limited to 45 participants and operates on a first come, first served basis. Additional details about the workshop are below.
