General Information about Filing Complaints with the Minnesota Board of Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST)

The POST Board's authority to investigate complaints and to impose discipline on a peace officer's license is limited by Minnesota Statutes 626.8431, 626.8432, and 626.845. These statutes provide that POST can take licensure action when a violation of the established standards of conduct for licensed peace officers occurs.

Some examples of standards of conduct violations include: engaging in discriminatory conduct, use of unauthorized or unreasonable force or unauthorized deadly force, misuse of authority, or committing certain criminal offenses. The full list of Standards of Conduct violations can be found in Minn. Rules 6700.1600.

Local Agency: Minnesota law requires that all law enforcement agencies have a policy on Allegations of Misconduct that outlines the acceptance, investigation and resolution of citizen complaints.

POST Board: If you believe that an officer has violated a POST Board standard of conduct, you may use this form to file a complaint with POST, in addition to filing a complaint with the agency of the officer.

After you have filed a complaint with us, our staff will review the complaint, then bring it before our Complaint Investigation Committee to determine if it falls within the POST Board's jurisdiction. If your complaint falls within the POST Board's jurisdiction, additional information will be gathered. The Board may order an investigation conducted by an outside agency.

If your complaint is determined to NOT be in POST Board jurisdiction, no further action will be taken and we will notify you. If your complaint is not in POST Board jurisdiction, we encourage you to contact the officer's agency and file a complaint with them if you have not already done so.

Additionally, we have created a frequently asked questions (FAQ) document that you can access at this link: POST Board Complaints FAQ.

If you still have questions regarding the information in this complaint packet or the FAQ document or are having difficulty determining if your complaint is appropriate for POST Board action, do not hesitate to contact us at 651-643-3060 or send an email to postboard.agency.docs@state.mn.us and ask to speak with a Standards Coordinator.
