Re: Carjackings Are Serious!

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I urge you to measure the trauma and theft to carjacking victims by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans victims and feeling very unsafe. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims are to be protected. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Sincerely,
Vicki Ceass

Re: Carjackings are violent crimes

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

Carjackings traumatize victims, and the criminals doing this need to serve jail time. We have an epidemic of carjackings, and they should not be treated like the existing robbery standard. The same criminals just come back and do it again, because the punishment is not severe enough. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Re: I Implore You to Take Carjacking Seriously

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I'm writing to urge you to put victims' interest over offenders. Carjacking is a serious crime and a serious issue and it needs to have a more severe penalty and treated with the seriousness of the issue. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Please keep the community safe and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Re: Please Take Carjacking Seriously

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I'm writing to urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Re: Take carjackings seriously!

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Sincerely,
Brad Tansom

Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Re: Take carjackings seriously!

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Re: Please Take Carjacking Seriously

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I'm writing to urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Sincerely,
Marty Hanson

This action is NOT just a robbery - often it involves injury to the victim, occasionally young children strapped in the back seat are involved, and the victim is left stranded, injured and without transportation, effecting every aspect of their lives. Carjacking needs to be treated as a serious crime, with jail time, and considered an assault with a deadly weapon - as has been seen in some sad cases where the car has become a deadly weapon -resulting chases have ended in deadly crashes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Re: Please Take Carjacking Seriously

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I'm writing to urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Re: Take carjackings seriously!

Dear Minnesota Sentencing Guidelines Commission,

I urge you to put victims' interest over offenders by assigning a more severe penalty to the crime of carjacking. The Minnesota legislature recognized the epidemic of carjacking in our cities by creating this new law because they understand that this devastating act has left countless Minnesotans traumatized. Now you need to do your job and assign a severe penalty to carjacking in order to send a message to criminals that the punishment for this traumatic crime includes prison time. Treating carjacking using the existing robbery standard is not enough of a deterrent to stop this behavior and the same criminals will spin through the revolving door of justice, free to repeat their crimes. Minnesota victims deserve better. Carjackers need a stronger sentence. Please take this into account at your meeting on July 27, 2023.

Sincerely,
Kelly Bloid

I will not hesitate to kill an attacker who points any weapon at me during an attempted carjacking. Far better for you to impose a more serious sentence before this killing happens. And I assure you, it will happen. Sincerely, Doug Williams
