PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

This legislation revises and extends for three years the Developmental Disabilities and Bill of Rights Act. The program has four components: the basic State grant program, the protection and advocacy program, the university affiliated programs, and the projects of national significance.

H.R. 3505 updates the Findings section contained in current law, adds sections on Purposes and Policies, makes technical changes to the Act, and authorizes the programs through fiscal year 1996.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR THE LEGISLATION

The Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act, P.L. 94–103, was enacted in 1975 and has been extended and revised many times over the years to clarify and strengthen the programs contained therein. This reauthorization gives Congress the opportunity to update the Act to reflect the interests and concerns of a diverse disability community, and to continue its activities for another three years.

HEARINGS

The Committee's Subcommittee on Health and the Environment held one day of hearings on the reauthorization of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act on April 19, 1993. Testimony was received from two witnesses, Janis Foster, an individual from Maryland, and Paul Marchand, representing the Consortium for Citizens with Disabilities.

COMMITTEE CONSIDERATION

On November 10, 1993 the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment met in open session to consider a subcommittee print and ordered reported a clean bill by a voice vote, a quorum being present. On November 16, 1993, the Committee met in open session and ordered reported the bill H.R. 3505 with one amendment by voice vote, a quorum being present.
Pursuant to clause 2(1)x(A) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, no oversight findings or recommendations have been made by the Committee.

COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT OPERATIONS

Pursuant to clause 2(1)x(D) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, no oversight findings have been submitted to the Committee by the Committee on Government Operations.

COMMITTEE COST ESTIMATE

In compliance with clause 7(a) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee believes that the bill would not affect direct spending or receipts.

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,

Hon. John D. Dingell,
Chairman, Committee on Energy and Commerce, House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

Dear Mr. Chairman: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 3505, the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act Amendments of 1993, as ordered reported by the House Committee on Energy and Commerce on November 16, 1993. CBO estimates that enactment of H.R. 3505 would not affect direct spending or receipts. Therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply to this bill.
If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them.
Sincerely,

James L. Blum,
(For Robert D. Reischauer, Director).

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE COST ESTIMATE

1. Bill number: H.R. 3505.
4. Bill purpose: To amend the Development Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act to modify certain provisions relating to programs for individuals with developmental disabilities, federal assistance for priority area activities for individuals with developmental disabilities, protection and advocacy of individual rights, university affiliated programs, and projects of national significance, and for other purposes.
5. Estimated cost to the Federal Government:
The cost of this bill fall within budget function 500.

Basis of estimate: This bill reauthorizes for three years programs to assist people with developmental disabilities.

H.R. 3505 authorizes appropriations of specific amounts for fiscal year 1994 and such sums as may be necessary for fiscal years 1995 and 1996. Earlier this fiscal year, the Congress completed the appropriations bill for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and related agencies. For all of the above programs, the amount specifically authorized in H.R. 3505 is larger than the 1994 appropriation, and the estimate reflects the amount of the additional authorization.

Authorizations of such sums as may be necessary for 1995 and 1996 have been estimated by increasing the amount specified for 1994 to reflect projected inflation. All outlay estimates assume appropriation of the additional authorized amounts at the beginning of each fiscal year. Estimated outlays reflect spending patterns of the current programs.

Pay-as-you-go considerations: The Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 sets up procedures for legislation affecting direct spending or receipts through 1998. CBO estimates that enactment of H.R. 3505 would not affect direct spending or receipts. Therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures would not apply to this bill.

Estimated cost to State and local governments: H.R. 3505 limits the federal share of aggregate necessary costs to 75 percent in planning of priority area activities or grants for university affiliated programs. In urban or rural poverty areas, the bill limits the

INFLATION IMPACT STATEMENT

Pursuant to clause 2(1)(4) of rule XI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee makes the following statement with regard to the inflationary impact of the reported bill:

The Committee is unaware of any inflationary impact that H.R. 3505 would have on the economy. The programs authorized under this bill may in fact have an anti-inflationary impact, as they provide for cost-saving coordination of programs to avoid unnecessary duplication.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS

Section 1 of the bill contains the short title, which is "The Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act Amendments of 1993."

Section 2 of the bill amends the heading of title I of the Act to reflect the program's focus on individuals with developmental disabilities. Part A is retitled "General Provisions."

Section 3 of the bill amends Section 101 of the Act to update the Findings and adds sections on Purposes and Policies of the Act. These changes reflect recent developments in the field and are consistent with other Federal disability policy. The language of Section 101 speaks of goals and priorities for individuals with developmental disabilities, but the entire section should be interpreted in the context of the policy articulated in 101(c)(2), which states that any assistance should be provided in an individualized manner, consistent with the unique strengths, resources, priorities, concerns, abilities, and capabilities of the individual.

For example, the findings state that while individuals with developmental disabilities may encounter discrimination, they have the same rights to enjoy full and productive lives as any other member of society. Individuals with disabilities often require life long specialized services, but many individuals do not have adequate access to these services. The goals of the Act include providing individuals with developmental disabilities the fullest range of possibilities to live productive and integrated lives, acknowledging that each individual will have different abilities, priorities, and concerns.

The Committee recognizes that, with the appropriate resources and support, many individuals with developmental disabilities will live lives that are fully integrated into their respective communities. This potential, however, should not be seen as limiting the choice of individuals and their parents to seek living arrangements that are most suitable to their needs and wishes, whether they be in the community or in institutions.

The Committee has heard from many parents of individuals with developmental disabilities who reside in large institutional facilities. Among the concerns expressed by these parents is that the goal of independent, community-based living for some individuals not be seen as a mandate for all individuals with disabilities. The Committee recognizes and supports the belief that each individual and each respective family have different goals and needs. The Findings, Purposes, and Policies of this Act should in no way be read to support one kind of residential placement over another.

Furthermore, the Committee would caution that goals expressed in this Act to promote the greatest possible integration and independence for some individuals with developmental disabilities not be read as a Federal policy supporting the closure of residential institutions. It would be contrary to Federal intent to use the language or resources of this Act to support such actions, whether in the judicial or legislative system.

The section also amends the definition of States for purposes of the Act by clarifying that Guam is eligible to apply as a State for the University Affiliated Programs grants.

Section 4 of the bill makes technical amendments to the Act. The Title of Part C is amended to read "Protection and Advocacy of the Rights of Individuals with Developmental Disabilities." Section 142 of the Act is amended to clarify that the Secretary shall provide advance public notice of any reviews and solicit public comment on the protection and advocacy system funded under the Act. The findings of the public comment shall be included in the on-site-visit report, and the results of such reviews shall be distributed to the Governor of the State and other interested parties.

Section 5 of the bill reauthorizes each of the programs in the Act for fiscal years 1994–96. The State planning activities program is authorized at $70 million for fiscal year 1994 and such sums as may be necessary for 1995 and 1996; the protection and advocacy program is authorized at $24 million for fiscal year 1994 and such sums for 1995 and 1996; the university affiliated programs are authorized at $19 million for fiscal year 1994 and such sums for 1995 and 1996; and the projects of national significance are authorized at $4 million for fiscal year 1994 and such sums as may be necessary for 1995 and 1996.

CHANGES IN EXISTING LAW MADE BY THE BILL, AS REPORTED

In compliance with clause 3 of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, changes in existing law made by the bill, as reported, are shown as follows (existing law proposed to be omitted is enclosed in black brackets, new matter is printed in italic, existing law in which no change is proposed is shown in roman):

FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

Sec. 101. (a) The Congress finds that—

(1) in 1990 there are more than three million persons with developmental disabilities in the United States;

(2) persons whose disabilities occur during their developmental period frequently have severe disabilities which are likely to continue indefinitely;

(3) notwithstanding their severe disabilities, these persons have capabilities, competencies, and personal needs and preferences;

(4) family and members of the community can play a central role in enhancing the lives of persons with developmental disabilities, especially when the family is provided with necessary support services;

(5) persons with developmental disabilities and their families often require specialized lifelong assistance to be provided in a coordinated manner by many agencies and others in order to eliminate barriers for such persons and to meet the needs of such persons;

(6) generic service agencies and agencies providing specialized services to persons with disabilities sometimes overlook, inappropriately address the needs of, or exclude persons with developmental disabilities in their planning and delivery of services;

(7) a substantial portion of persons with developmental disabilities remain unserved or underserved;

(8) public and private employers tend to be unaware of the capability of persons with developmental disabilities to be engaged in competitive work in integrated settings; and

(9) it is in the national interest to offer persons with developmental disabilities the opportunity, to the maximum extent feasible, to make decisions for themselves and to live in typical homes and communities where they can exercise their full rights and responsibilities as citizens.

(b) The purposes of this title are—to provide assistance to States and public and private nonprofit agencies and organizations to assure that all persons with developmental disabilities receive the services and other assistance and opportunities necessary to enable such persons to achieve their maximum potential through increased independence, productivity, and integration into the community;
(2) to enhance the role of the family in assisting persons with developmental disabilities to achieve their maximum potential;
(3) to provide interdisciplinary training and technical assistance to professionals, paraprofessionals, family members, and individuals with developmental disabilities;
(4) to advocate for public policy change and community acceptance of all people with developmental disabilities and their families so that such persons receive the services, supports and other assistance and opportunities necessary to enable such persons to achieve their maximum potential through increased independence, productivity and integration into the community;
(5) to promote the inclusion of all persons with developmental disabilities, including persons with the most severe disabilities, in community life;
(6) to promote the interdependent activity of all persons with developmental disabilities, including persons with the most severe disabilities;
(7) to recognize the contribution of all persons with developmental disabilities as such persons share their talents at home, school, and work, and in recreation and leisure time; and
